Primary races outlined

With slightly more than a week remaining before the Democratic and Republican primary elections on May 4, political activity in Medina County is going forward at a hot pace.

The only county-wide race pits Leon Mangold against Bobbie Parks for Tax Assessor-Collector. Other county races include unopposed elections of Jerome Decker for County Judge, County Clerk, Cornelia M. (Connie) Koch; County Treasurer M. L. Mechler and District Clerk Francis Bohl. All are incumbents except Miss Koch, who is running for the post of retiring County Clerk Henry Schulte.

Commissioner races in the area show Leon Tschirhart and Jerome F. Noonan vying for the Precinct 2 job, and in Precinct 4 David Odam, Lester M. Delbrail, Robert L. Busby Jr., Joe F. Smith and Tobey Tomblin all are running.

Other precinct races show a heavily-loaded slate for Justice of the Peace Precinct 5 including Sims Stribling, Frank L. Crawford and Bob McGowen of Devine.

Precinct 5 constable candidates include R. S. "Bob" Weber, William A. "Bill" McBee, and O. C. Connell.

Hondo's Precinct 1 Justice of the Peace has Harold F. Herring running unopposed for re-election. Daniel Ruempel and John V. Parma, incumbent Justices of the Peace in Precincts 3 and 8 respectively, are also unopposed.

Hondo's half of the County will vote on the six-man race for U.S. Congressman, District 21. That race involves John H. Poerner of Hondo against Patrick M. Ainsworth of Llano, Robert Krueger of New Braunfels, Nelson Wolff of San Antonio, Allen Moore of Rankin and Joe Sullivan of Bexar County.

Eastern precincts will vote for either Abraham Kazen Jr. (incumbent), Jake Johnson, or John Roland for U.S. Congressman, District 23.

Incumbent John Traeger of Seguin will be on county-wide ballots against Oscar Carrillo Sr. of Duval County for State Senator, District 21.

Also on all county ballots will be Texas State Representative, District 45 candidates Don Rains of San Marcos, Jim Green of San Marcos and Sam L. Darden of Bandera.

Additionally, state offices from Governor on down will be on the ballot.

Republicans will also go to the polls May 4, to vote a list of primary candidates.

Candidates in those races include Jim Granberry and Odell McBrayer for Governor; Robert O'Connor Jr. for District 21 State Senator; Ed Mergele for District 45 State Representative; and for U.S. Congressman District 21, Doug Harlan, Frank Hutchison, Bobby Locke, Van Archer and Simon Garza.

Republicans will all cast their votes at the Medina County courthouse, while Democratic elections will be held in precinct voting places throughout the county.

Absentee voting for both primaries will continue through Tuesday, April 30.

RIBBON WAS CUT. . .in opening ceremonies at Parker Creek dam by Harlan Wolff, MVSCD Chairman. Also on hand were County Judge Jerome Decker, EUWD Chairman William Spice and Col. McDonald Weinert, also of the EUWD.

Crowd sees Parker Dam dedication

A crowd of 250 persons was on hand to see the dedication of the Parker Creek Flood Prevention structure on the A. O. Gilliam Ranch Saturday morning, April 20.

A fine mist did nothing to hamper the crowd from inspecting the 1,500-foot rock-faced earthen dam.

Medina County Judge Jerome Decker presided over a short ceremony, and Medina Valley Soil and Water Conservation District President Harlan Wolff snipped the ribbon to open the dam officially. Following the ribbon cutting the crowd, which had witnessed the ceremonies at the eastern end of the structure, was free to walk to the western end of the dam. There is located the principal spillway which empties floodwaters from the temporary reservoir through a 42-inch diameter pipe.

Present for the dedication were several men who had had an instrumental role in seeing to the dam's initiation and its completion.

Medina Valley S&WCD Chairman Harlan Wolff was accompanied by fellow Directors Franklin Muennink, Clarence P. Wurzbach and Frank Silvey.

County Commissioners Hilmer Mangold, Fred Bader and Ira Barron were present but Commissioner Charles Langfeld, in whose precinct the structure is located, was unable to attend due to illness. He was represented by his son, Joe Langfeld.

State Soil and Water Conservation Board member Joe Antilley of Abilene was also present, as was Robert W. Williams of Uvalde, Area Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

Edwards Underground Water District board Chairman William Spice was on hand along with Executive Director Col. McDonald Weinert and members Bradley Boehle and Lawrence Rothe.

Also at the dedication was Paul Jahn, original Chairman of the Board of the Edwards Underground Water District and a pioneer in water conservation and recharge policies.

Glenn Gilbreath, engineer from Lodal and Bain Engineers was present, along with constructior contractor William Pfeuffer.

Hilmar Koch represented the D'Hanis Lions Club, and E. L. Abbott headed the delegation from the Hondo SCS office.

The Parker Creek structure was built at a cost of $347,773.75. Constructed of compacted earth faced with limestone rock, it stretches from a hillside 1,100 feet across the streambed to an opposite hill, then turns upstream 400 feet. At its maximum height it stands 58 feet above the streambed. Its top is 14 feet wide, with a roadway along the crest.

Beyond the eastern edge of the dam is a 300-foot emergency spillway carved from the limestone hill. Excavation for the spillway provided nearly all of the rock facing for the dam.

The structure is the first dam financed entirely by the EUWD, but the district has contributed toward construction of other dams in the area, including $210,000 to the San Antonio River Authority to initiate land acquisition for dams in the Salado Creek Dam project; $16,000 to the Blieder's Creek Dry Comal Watershed project in Comal County; $25,000 to the Upper San Marcos River Watershed project in Hays County; $22,000 to the Leona River Watershed Project in Uvalde County; and $35,000 to the Seco Creek Watershed Project in Medina County.

Each of the structures will provide recharge for the massive Edwards Underground aquifer which provides drinking, industrial and agricultural water for over a million people.

A secondary but considerable benefit of the structures will be flood prevention and erosion control downstream from the dams.

Screwworm season coming again, warns Glenn Bragg

Medina County Livestock producers should be aware that 1974 has the earmarks of an extremely bad screwworm season and should make every effort to reduce the number of outbreaks. This word comes from County Extension Agent Glenn Bragg.

Program officials are asking producers to refrain from livestock surgery or other man-made wounds to prevent screwworm infestations. The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association has pointed out that at least 30 per cent of this season's cases have resulted from dehorning, branding, docking and similar practices.

County Agent Glenn Bragg urges all livestock producers to support the screwworm eradication effort by carrying out three key practices:

1) Inspecting their animals frequently;

2) Treating all wounds found with an approved product; and

3) Collecting and sending worm samples from wounds to the USDA Screwworm laboratory at Mission, Texas, for identification. The post office box is 969.

As cases are confirmed, sterile screwworm fly treatment is initiated by the USDA. "It is vitally important for program officials to know where cases are happening in order to begin the sterile fly treatment before cases are too numerous," the County Agent reminds.

As spring migrations of fertile flies from south of the Rio Grande continue, the cases move northward across Texas rather rapidly. Already, positive cases have been confirmed as far north as Brown and Haskell Counties, so all southern, central and west Texas areas should watch for screwworms, says Bragg.

A WORTHWHILE PROJECT

. . . planned for Medina Memorial Hospital is described in a letter from Dr. W. S. Duty. I believe it speaks more than adequately on the proposal:

"Dear Mr. Lawrence:

"During recent years physicians are seeing and treating ever increasing numbers of patients with chronic bronchitis, emphysema, and asthma. Collectively, the medical profession calls these diseases or disorders chronic obstructive lung disease [C.O.L.D.].

"Unfortunately, all too often, the patient is first seen when he has become a "pulmonary cripple"--that is, he has to reduce his physical activity to prevent breathlessness. Many of these people ultimately die of respiratory failure ["suffocation"]. And the dying process is a long, slow one--most often with several years of progressively decreasing respiratory function.

"In recent years rather sophisticated diagnostic equipment has been developed that permits the physician to diagnose and differentiate these disorders and thereby quite often markedly alter the outcome of the disease. . .slow down and even in some cases, arrest the process.

"The Medina Memorial Hospital is planning to establish a pulmonary function laboratory that will be available to all of the hospital's physicians. Pulmonary function testing would be available on an out-patient basis, as well as in-patient, upon physician's request. Results of the tests will be available to the patient's physician within 24 hours.

"It is estimated that it will cost approximately $2,000.00 to establish the pulmonary function laboratory.

"The economic "freeze" of recent years has caused financial difficulty for the hospital. Because of this it was felt that if the citizens of the area were aware of the hospital's plan they might wish to support the effort with financial donations. Any such contributions will be most welcome and may be sent directly to the hospital administrator. Sincerely, W. S. Duty, M.D., Chief of Staff, Medina Memorial Hospital."

Thank you, Dr. Duty. I firmly believe the hospital will have the $2,000 in nothing flat. I would hope that my small donation of $10 can be among the first.

Seminar on children set in Uvalde on May 1

Children will take the spotlight in a seminar May 1 in Uvalde, but it's their parents who will attend demonstrations, a symposium and luncheon at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center on Garner Field Road.

"The Early Years--A Seminar About Children" will be an all-day event for parents of young children in Uvalde and surrounding counties.

"Parents will learn basic needs of young children and how the parent can help meet these needs," according to Mrs. Gaye Bippert, Medina County Extension Agent.

Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, the seminar is open to the public with no admission charge.

"Seminar highlights will include 'What's Good for Young Children,' a presentation by Dr. Jennie C. Kitching, Extension family life education specialist," Mrs. Bippert noted.

"In addition, parents will see 16 demonstrations of simple, teaching games they can play with their children.

"They also will hear area personalities discuss ways to enhance the life of children during a morning symposium," the agent added.

Symposium speakers include Mrs. Doyle Jackson of Uvalde, a private school administrator, Mrs. Carolyn Biediger of Uvalde, a consultant psychologist, and the Rev. Ed Jordan, Blanco, Texas Catholic Church pastor.

Also, Mrs. Virginia Ilseng, Comal County Extension Agent of New Braunfels and Mrs. Jane Allen, LaPryor, Texas kindergarten teacher.

Symposium topics will be discipline, emotions, children and families, and getting ready for school.

Another morning event will be a discussion-and-question period.

Purpose of the seminar is to help families acquire basic concepts of early childhood development--and parent education to bring about more effective parent-child interaction, Mrs. Bippert said.

Education meeting set Tuesday

A special meeting of persons interested in bringing continuing-education, adult basic education, or college-level courses to Hondo area will be held Tuesday night at the City Hall Auditorium.

Time for that meeting will be 7:30 p.m., reports Richard Lynch, chairman of the Advisory Committee.

The effort stems from notice received by Hondo Independent School System that federal and State funding was available to implement certain community education programs for September 1974 if a program for the community could be outlined to take advantage of the program.

Jose L. Calderon, Adult Basic Education director for Southwest Texas Jr. College in Uvalde, notified Richard Lynch that an Advisory Committee of community leaders, businessmen, and the general public must be organized by April 22 to survey the needs of area citizens regarding remedial, vocational, recreational or college-level education.

A preliminary meeting was held Monday night at which a start was made toward finding these needs in the Hondo area.

Tuesday night's meeting will be to continue this effort and get new ideas about what courses are considered important in this area.

SUPPORT GIVEN CANDIDATES BY ANVIL HERALD

Governor Dolph Briscoe

Dolph Briscoe kept that promise.

That is the theme of Governor Dolph Briscoe's campaign to be re-elected to the top position in Texas government for four years.

We at the Anvil Herald concur whole heartedly with that theme.

Dolph Briscoe kept his promise on no new taxes. He showed Texans how to live within a budget that required no more taxation.

Dolph Briscoe has stabilized the insurance mess and this has brought about a decrease in rates to the people of Texas.

Despite a hue and cry from many fronts against his stand on a special education bill, Dolph Briscoe approved some $800,000,000 going into education during the last session of the Legislature. This included kindergarten, bi-lingual education, and vocational training in the junior high school.

In addition to these and other achievements, Gov. Dolph Briscoe has established a confidence in government by example. He brought an integrity to state government that has given the people new hope.

Dolph Briscoe has carried on his job and the state's business in a low key approach appreciated by the public that long ago tired of the shrill clamor, wild cries and frantic antics used by so many politicians.

Dolph Briscoe has asked to be the first governor elected for four years. We believe he has done a superb job the past two years. Let's give him another four.

Rep. John Poerner

In a field of 11 candidates for any race most people feel they are overpowered by numbers. . .but this isn't so in the 21st Congressional District race. One man looms head and shoulders above the rest of the field as being the best qualified, the ideal man to represent all the district in Washington.

That man is State Representative John H. Poerner of Hondo.

John Poerner has the experience of proven leadership. His almost six years in the Texas Legislature, which is highlighted by service on all the important committees as well as appointments to vital groups, has given him edge.

John Poerner has the experience of background. He was born and raised in Medina County. He has lived here and raised his family here. He has earned his living here. He has served his community in many local projects, from the church to the Chamber of Commerce.

John Poerner has the experience of business. He is a practicing surveyor. He is a practicing rancher. These combine with other attributes to give him a philosophy that fits this sprawling 21st Congressional District to a tee. He understands the problems of the people because he has lived those problems himself. He has earned his money by his abilities. He was not born rich. Nor does he have the blessing of a few rich. He is the candidate of the people, for John Poerner is one of them.

When it comes time to vote on May 4 we firmly and strongly believe that John H. Poerner is the only man in this race who has earned through background, leadership, business experience and community involvement the right to get an X by his name.

We also feel that in the coming years John Poerner's presence in Washington will be a valuable and incalcuable asset to Hondo, Medina County and the entire 21st Congressional District.

BKL

Don Rains

Looking over the field of candidates for the 45th Legislative District seat vacated by Rep. John Poerner one needs to seek a candidate whose philosophy best fits the entire district.

In our opinion that man would be Don Rains of San Marcos.

SUPPORT GIVEN CANDIDATES BY ANVIL HERALD

Governor Dolph Briscoe

Dolph Briscoe kept that promise.

That is the theme of Governor Dolph Briscoe's campaign to be re-elected to the top position in Texas government for four years.

We at the Anvil Herald concur whole heartedly with that theme.

Dolph Briscoe kept his promise on no new taxes. He showed Texans how to live within a budget that required no more taxation.

Dolph Briscoe has stabilized the insurance mess and this has brought about a decrease in rates to the people of Texas.

Despite a hue and cry from many fronts against his stand on a special education bill, Dolph Briscoe approved some $800,000,000 going into education during the last session of the Legislature. This included kindergarten, bi-lingual education, and vocational training in the junior high school.

In addition to these and other achievements, Gov. Dolph Briscoe has established a confidence in government by example. He brought an integrity to state government that has given the people new hope.

Dolph Briscoe has carried on his job and the state's business in a low key approach appreciated by the public that long ago tired of the shrill clamor, wild cries and frantic antics used by so many politicians.

Dolph Briscoe has asked to be the first governor elected for four years. We believe he has done a superb job the past two years. Let's give him another four.

Rep. John Poerner

In a field of 11 candidates for any race most people feel they are overpowered by numbers. . .but this isn't so in the 21st Congressional District race. One man looms head and shoulders above the rest of the field as being the best qualified, the ideal man to represent all the district in Washington.

That man is State Representative John H. Poerner of Hondo.

John Poerner has the experience of proven leadership. His almost six years in the Texas Legislature, which is highlighted by service on all the important committees as well as appointments to vital groups, has given him edge.

John Poerner has the experience of background. He was born and raised in Medina County. He has lived here and raised his family here. He has earned his living here. He has served his community in many local projects, from the church to the Chamber of Commerce.

John Poerner has the experience of business. He is a practicing surveyor. He is a practicing rancher. These combine with other attributes to give him a philosophy that fits this sprawling 21st Congressional District to a tee. He understands the problems of the people because he has lived those problems himself. He has earned his money by his abilities. He was not born rich. Nor does he have the blessing of a few rich. He is the candidate of the people, for John Poerner is one of them.

When it comes time to vote on May 4 we firmly and strongly believe that John H. Poerner is the only man in this race who has earned through background, leadership, business experience and community involvement the right to get an X by his name.

We also feel that in the coming years John Poerner's presence in Washington will be a valuable and incalcuable asset to Hondo, Medina County and the entire 21st Congressional District.

May 1 is Loyalty Day

May 1, 1974 is designated as Loyalty Day. It is the one day set aside for us to think about how lucky all are. This is the greatest country in the world, and it's getting to the point that everyone is just taking it for granted.

If you are proud to be an American, and feel that lump in your throat when you see the Flag flying in the sky or hear the Star Spangle Banner, join with us, VFW Post 2891, in observing Loyalty Day May 1st. Fly your flag high, wear your colors and help spread the good feeling that we are true Americans and love our country.

Following is a proclamation.

THE WHITE HOUSE
LOYALTY DAY, 1974
BY THE PRESIDENT
OF THE UNITED
STATES OF AMERICA
A PROCLAMATION

Loyalty has never been a word of easy definition because loyalty is a state of mind, a condition of the heart. Loyalty is something we feel in our deepest convictions. It is not a banner to be waved so much as a quality to be demonstrated by our deeds.

Just as healthy differences exist in the ways that Americans seek progress for our Nation, loyalty to our Nation means different things to different people. But regardless of how it is manifested, a common strain runs through our loyalty and has made it a distinctly profound part of our national heritage.

Loyalty includes a sense of deep patriotism. It is patriotism which calls upon all of us to make personal sacrifices when our Nation is challenged from within or without.

Loyalty means allegiance to the country which has maintained our liberties, blessed us with an abundance of material well-being and spiritual freedom, and provided us all with opportunities which no civilization in history has ever before matched.

A little over a year ago as our returning Vietnam prisoners of war gave all Americans a sense of joyous celebration, one of those courageous men came forth holding up a small American Flag. His words were simple, but moving: "...we never lost faith in the American people, and we knew that these colors wouldn't run."

It might not have been a dictionary definition, but those words represent loyalty as well as any free American could ever hope.

In recognition of the need to set aside a day to pay tribute to the quality of loyalty, the Congress by a joint resolution of July 18, 1958, designated May 1 of each year as Loyalty Day and requested the President to issue a proclamation inviting the people of the United States to observe such a day with appropriate ceremonies.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD NIXON, President of the United States of America, do call upon the people of the United Staes and upon all patriotic, civic and educational organizations to observe Wednesday, May 1, 1974, as Loyalty Day, with appropriate ceremonies in which all may join.

I call also upon appropriate officials of the Government to display the flag of the United States on all Government buildings on that day as an expression of our loyalty to the National symbolized by that flag.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-fifth day of March, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-four and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred ninety-eighth.

Barter system may smooth prices

AUSTIN -- A return to the centuries-old 'barter system' on certain agricultural products may be the key to our future in stabilizing food prices, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said recently.

"Our farmers and ranchers desperately need a dependable source of fuel and fertilizer to continue to produce in abundance," said White. "Other oil producing nations in Central and South America and the middle east need an assured supply of food. A fair exchange of products which will not depend on the fluctuations on the international money market has been proposed for study."

Commissioner White was in Washington recently to discuss the exchange program with representatives of oil producing nations.

"In these days of monetary fluctuations over the world, farm products have more appeal, and stable value, than dollars," White explained. "If we can 'barter' food for a steady source of fuel and fertilizer, we can produce enough products to bring our own inflationary food spiral under control."

"It is my hope that the Washington meeting will open up further discussion on exchanging food for petrochemical products. It is as simple -- and complex, as that," the 49-year-old Commissioner noted.

"Oil producing nations have a huge supply of dollars but there is fierce competition on the world market for grain and meat. Our own food prices reflect that competition. A fair exchange program would help solve a number of mutual problems," White said.

Where Do the People Fit Into the 21st District Race For Congress?

Right Here...

JUDGE ALLEN MOORE

Judge Allen Moore is a man you can turn to. He's County Judge of Upton County, and his identity is with the people -- not with big spending, big politics, and big inflation.

Allen Moore is the candidate who has brought the 21st District congressional race down to earth -- where it belongs. He believes public office belongs to you -- not to the highest bidder.

In a race where money seems to be no object, Allen Moore speaks a dollars-and-cents language the businessman, the workingman, the housewife, the teacher, the person with a fixed retirement income, and young people getting a start can understand. He's the candidate for Congress who makes sense every day. That's why your vote for Judge Allen Moore is so important on election day.

We received word from Bud Guinn that he is collecting contributions to the American Red Cross. This is the only channel for servicemen abroad to get information from or to their families in time of illness, death or any other emergency. It also brings servicemen home in a time of emergency. The American Red Cross is also very involved in all relief activities for tornado and flood victims. The local Red Cross needs your support.

We received two interesting letters over the week--one from a long-distance deer hunter and another from an engineering firm. Here they are:

"Dear Sir: I am interested in a deer hunting lease in your area. If you have any information on leases available I would certainly like to hear from you in the immediate future. Thank you, James W. Pratt, 628 West Sale Rd., Lake Charles, Louisiana 70601."

"Gentlemen: In accordance with its statutory responsibility for the topographic and geologic mapping of the State of Texas, the Texas Water Development Board maintains a repository of U.S. Geological Survey topographic maps. This repository is maintained for use by State and local governmental entities.

"Additionally the Texas Water Development Board seeks to maintain, as part of this repository a reference file of maps of the State's cities. The file is updated periodically in an effort to keep it current. If your organization has for distribution a map for the City of Hondo, or can obtain such a map, we would appreciate your furnishing us two copies thereof for our map repository reference file. Your early consideration of this request will be greatly appreciated. Sincerely, C. R. Baskin, Principal Engineer, Data and Technical Review."

And, speaking of statistical data, we compiled some figures of our own. Here they are:

Outgoing letters went to Arizona, Colorado, Louisiana, as well as several spots in Texas;

Housing requests, 1; referrals, 4; other calls, 3. Job orders, 3; applications, 4; referrals, 22; T.E.C. Call-in cards and answers, 21.

Unemployment, 0; other job calls, 15.

Social Security and Drivers License, 2; Salvation Army, 6; maps, brochures 9; hunting leases, 2; hunting requests, 10; other requests, 16.

We received word from Bud Guinn that he is collecting contributions to the American Red Cross. This is the only channel for servicemen abroad to get information from or to their families in time of illness, death or any other emergency. It also brings servicemen home in a time of emergency. The American Red Cross is also very involved in all relief activities for tornado and flood victims. The local Red Cross needs your support.

We received two interesting letters over the week--one from a long-distance deer hunter and another from an engineering firm. Here they are:

"Dear Sir: I am interested in a deer hunting lease in your area. If you have any information on leases available I would certainly like to hear from you in the immediate future. Thank you, James W. Pratt, 628 West Sale Rd., Lake Charles, Louisiana 70601."

"Gentlemen: In accordance with its statutory responsibility for the topographic and geologic mapping of the State of Texas, the Texas Water Development Board maintains a repository of U.S. Geological Survey topographic maps. This repository is maintained for use by State and local governmental entities.

"Additionally the Texas Water Development Board seeks to maintain, as part of this repository a reference file of maps of the State's cities. The file is updated periodically in an effort to keep it current. If your organization has for distribution a map for the City of Hondo, or can obtain such a map, we would appreciate your furnishing us two copies thereof for our map repository reference file. Your early consideration of this request will be greatly appreciated. Sincerely, C. R. Baskin, Principal Engineer, Data and Technical Review."

And, speaking of statistical data, we compiled some figures of our own. Here they are:

Outgoing letters went to Arizona, Colorado, Louisiana, as well as several spots in Texas;

Housing requests, 1; referrals, 4; other calls, 3. Job orders, 3; applications, 4; referrals, 22; T.E.C. Call-in cards and answers, 21.

Unemployment, 0; other job calls, 15.

Social Security and Drivers License, 2; Salvation Army, 6; maps, brochures, 9; hunting leases, 2; hunting requests, 10; other requests, 16.

May 1 is Loyalty Day

May 1, 1974 is designated as Loyalty Day. It is the one day set aside for us to think about how lucky all are. This is the greatest country in the world, and it's getting to the point that everyone is just taking it for granted.

If you are proud to be an American, and feel that lump in your throat when you see the Flag flying in the sky or hear the Star Spangle Banner, join with us, VFW Post 2891, in observing Loyalty Day May 1st. Fly your flag high, wear your colors and help spread the good feeling that we are true Americans and love our country.

Following is a proclamation.

THE WHITE HOUSE
LOYALTY DAY, 1974
BY THE PRESIDENT
OF THE UNITED
STATES OF AMERICA
A PROCLAMATION

Loyalty has never been a word of easy definition because loyalty is a state of mind, a condition of the heart. Loyalty is something we feel in our deepest convictions. It is not a banner to be waved so much as a quality to be demonstrated by our deeds.

Just as healthy differences exist in the ways that Americans seek progress for our Nation, loyalty to our Nation means different things to different people. But regardless of how it is manifested, a common strain runs through our loyalty and has made it a distinctly profound part of our national heritage.

Loyalty includes a sense of deep patriotism. It is patriotism which calls upon all of us to make personal sacrifices when our Nation is challenged from within or without.

Loyalty means allegiance to the country which has maintained our liberties, blessed us with an abundance of material well-being and spiritual freedom, and provided us all with opportunities which no civilization in history has ever before matched.

A little over a year ago as our returning Vietnam prisoners of war gave all Americans a sense of joyous celebration, one of those courageous men came forth holding up a small American Flag. His words were simple, but moving: "...we never lost faith in the American people, and we knew that these colors wouldn't run."

It might not have been a dictionary definition, but those words represent loyalty as well as any free American could ever hope.

In recognition of the need to set aside a day to pay tribute to the quality of loyalty, the Congress by a joint resolution of July 18, 1958, designated May 1 of each year as Loyalty Day and requested the President to issue a proclamation inviting the people of the United States to observe such a day with appropriate ceremonies.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD NIXON, President of the United States of America, do call upon the people of the United Staes and upon all patriotic, civic and educational organizations to observe Wednesday, May 1, 1974, as Loyalty Day, with appropriate ceremonies in which all may join.

I call also upon appropriate officials of the Government to display the flag of the United States on all Government buildings on that day as an expression of our loyalty to the National symbolized by that flag.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-fifth day of March, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-four and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred ninety-eighth.

Barter system may smooth prices

AUSTIN -- A return to the centuries-old 'barter system' on certain agricultural products may be the key to our future in stabilizing food prices, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said recently.

"Our farmers and ranchers desperately need a dependable source of fuel and fertilizer to continue to produce in abundance," said White. "Other oil producing nations in Central and South America and the middle east need an assured supply of food. A fair exchange of products which will not depend on the fluctuations on the international money market has been proposed for study."

Commissioner White was in Washington recently to discuss the exchange program with representatives of oil producing nations.

"In these days of monetary fluctuations over the world, farm products have more appeal, and stable value, than dollars," White explained. "If we can 'barter' food for a steady source of fuel and fertilizer, we can produce enough products to bring our own inflationary food spiral under control."

"It is my hope that the Washington meeting will open up further discussion on exchanging food for petrochemical products. It is as simple -- and complex, as that," the 49-year-old Commissioner noted.

"Oil producing nations have a huge supply of dollars but there is fierce competition on the world market for grain and meat. Our own food prices reflect that competition. A fair exchange program would help solve a number of mutual problems," White said.

Where Do the People Fit Into the 21st District Race For Congress?

Right Here...

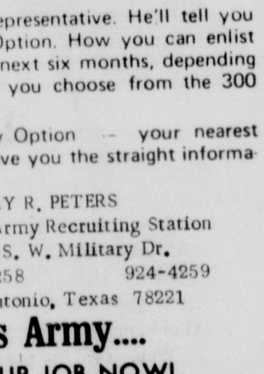

JUDGE ALLEN MOORE

Judge Allen Moore is a man you can turn to. He's County Judge of Upton County, and his identity is with the people -- not with big spending, big politics, and big inflation.

Allen Moore is the candidate who has brought the 21st District congressional race down to earth -- where it belongs. He believes public office belongs to you -- not to the highest bidder.

In a race where money seems to be no object, Allen Moore speaks a dollars-and-cents language the businessman, the workingman, the housewife, the teacher, the person with a fixed retirement income, and young people getting a start can understand. He's the candidate for Congress who makes sense every day. That's why your vote for Judge Allen Moore is so important on election day.

LIBRARY NEWS

Mrs. M. L. McDowell and Guadalupe Alvarez were accepted as new members of Hondo Public Library's Board of Trustees at its meeting Tuesday night, April 16.

Attending the meeting were Virginia Clift, chairman; Nancy Buescher, Franklin Wiemers, Martin Noonan and Librarian Lottie Maw, and Secretary Ina Mansell. By unanimous vote, Mrs. Buescher was elected vice-chairman.

Among matters discussed by the Board members were the recently acquired shelves, selection of Seventh Anniversary books and current activities of the Hondo Junior Service League and the wonderful way they are helping the library.

The library has been the recipient of several memorials honoring Mrs. O. A. (Millie) Fly. These have come from Harry E. Filleman, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buescher, Lottie Maw, Mabel Holloway and Ina Mansell.

Two lovely displays for the Easter season were gifts of talented Lela Stout, an Easter bunny garden, and Glena Reily, beautiful roses. Miss Reily also gave a group of picture books for the children's Summer Reading Program and Story Hour.

Magazines were received from Martin Noonan, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Redus, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Foster and the Paul Reily family, who also honored Nancy Buescher with the gift of the Living Bible (Wm. Tyndale edition, translated).

Other reading material was donated by Ann-Michelle Vance, paperbacks and magazines; Mrs. Wm. B. Green, paperbacks; Maude Bulgerin, paperbacks; Hattie Laughinghouse, paperbacks; Virginia Clift, Reader's Digest Condensed Books and Doubleday's triple-volume detective book, and Evelyn Lacy, paperbacks.

A cash donation was received from C. A. Haass. The latest best-seller from Literary Guild, "Times to Remember" by Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy is now available to readers.

Mrs. Maw reminds all library patrons not to forget those overdue books. They are needed. Regular library hours are 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and the bookdrop is open at all hours.

All parents of band students, both High School and McDowell, and anyone else who has an interest in a good band program is urged to be present Tuesday night.

BLUE BIRD NEWS

April 17, Loving Bluebirds met at the Lutheran Church and held their weekly meeting. We collected money from the sale of Campfire Bar-B-Q tickets. The Bar-B-Q will be held Saturday, April 20, at the City Park. Serving starts at 5:30. We also collected articles for sale in the Country Store at the Bar-B-Q.

It was decided to cancel the meeting scheduled for April 24 in favor of working on Saturday, April 27, from 9:00 til 12:00 picking up litter for Beautify America Week. The Garden Club of Hondo has asked all organizations to participate and to meet at the Memorial Park for a sack lunch and they are supplying the soda water. We think this is a worthwhile cause and helps teach our young Bluebird girls respect for our city and good citizenship.

Refreshments were then served by Lisa Schoellman.

Those present were: Deena Schur, Gina Haass, Sherry Marty, Lisa Schoellman, Yvonne Dittmar, Dianna Lindeburg, Mary Alice Mendoza, Esther DeLeon, Inez Ontiveras and Norma Carabajal.

Happy Face

We had an Easter egg hunt on April the 10th. Kim Winkler was our guest for the day. All the members were present and Thelma Villarreal served refreshments. A week before we had made recipe holders for our mothers for Easter and we took them home with us that day. We had a lot of fun.

On April the 17th, we met at Monica Schulte's home after saying our Bluebirds wish and lighting the candle, we had a full day. We played games and later we had cookies, pizza and cold drinks for refreshment served by Velma Garcia.

Meeting set

Plans for another Blood Services visit to Hondo will be made at a meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 13, in the Audio Visual Room at Hondo High School.

This coming blood drive will be under the supervision of the Junior Service League assisted by many groups and individuals in Hondo.

Anyone who is interested in helping is urged to attend the May 13 meeting.

by Edna McDade

By the next issue of Medina County's Leading Newspaper since 1886, Geoffrey Chaucer's ". . . that Aprille with his shoures" will have come and gone, to be followed, as it was in GC's time, by "May with alle thy floures and thy grene. Wel-come be thou, fair fresshe May."

Quoting Chaucer takes me back to my tenth grade days, when spelling was still a daily exercise and we were just being introduced to Chaucer. One boy in the class was what our teacher called "almost a hopeless speller." His defense: "Well, Chaucer didn't score so high, either!"

Remember when turkey was served on such special occasions as Thanksgiving, Christmas, anniversaries etc.?

A March inventory reported 182 million pounds of turkey in cold storage and more to come. Cold turkey!

Figure out how many drumsticks and second helpings of giblet gravy that would make. Farmers say they can't afford to feed the present crop of young turkeys under those conditions. Maybe we can look forward to tender young birds at what every food ad will claim is "the lowest price in town."

Will power has been defined as the ability to eat only ONE salted peanut. For those without this proof of will power, it must be reassuring to know that the USDA has increased the 1974 peanut planting allotment by 2,416 acres of which 229 acres will be added to the Texas allowable.

ELLA [Mrs. Alfred] BRUCKS had some beautiful roses gracefully winding their colorful, sweet-scented way around trellises in her front yard a few weeks ago. Perhaps they are still blooming.

In all fairness, credit for building the trellis backgrounds should go to Alfred who, Ella says, "can build most anything he takes a notion to build."

Time for the final "readying up" preparations for Museum Days, May 4-5, is a-waistin' mighty fast now but, as of last report, the situation seemed to be well in hand.

Lest MARTIN NOONAN be nursing hurt feelings because his balloon booth didn't get honorable mention in the pre-view schedule, be assured that balloons are always a big item on M-Days, blown up to all proportions and available in a kaleidoscope of colors, ready to sail sky-high or be popped without notice. Look for them and invest in the fun.

One sure thing about the Museum grounds is this: If the cactus bed apron-ing the front entrance to the building isn't looking its prettiest, it will not be due to neglect. Last time I saw ELLA OEFINGER, she was on her knees, manicuring every spiny cactus, one by one. A labor of love and dedication to volunteer duty.

And, speaking of Oefingers, AGNES [Mrs. Ben], always the essence of generous hospitality, invited me to visit her for "a whole week or more" next Hondo trip and I know she meant it, bless her generous spirit.

I have happy memories of the trips we made to the Ranch when Ben and Agnes shared host duties and made guests feel welcome and eager to return for more of the same.

PAT GRUNEWALD told me she was glad I asked about her twin granddaughters because she "just happened to have" pictures of Cindy and Connie, now at the always adorable 3-year stage. I could not have told "which from each" but one is curly haired and the other has straight locks for her crowning glory.

Parents of the twins are CARLA and CLAYBORNE BOEHLE and their grandparents "on both sides" think they are the perfect answers to every grandparent's dream. Who wouldn't?

A visit with CAPPI [Mrs. Colby] HEYEN is always a special treat for me and we shared reminiscences after the meeting of the Museum Board earlier this month. I have known Cappi, whose father, JOE GRANERI, always called his tomboy daughter, since she was knee-high to a rattlesnake and "Rattlesnake" was one of her many nicknames.

Cappi is a dedicated Museum enthusiast even if she dismisses credit by saying "It's fun and team-work makes it enjoyable." When she told me that her older son, Chris [14] and in the 8th grade was now 5'8" and weighing 170 pounds, I told her that's what happens to once-little sons. Cliff, the Heyen's No. 2 son, is a 7th grader and still very much a fisherman.

The Museum now boasts "educated" storage cabinets. Lining the walls are some well-made glass-front cabinets that once filled the needs of one of the local schools [perhaps Lacy?] before they got "outgrown", by progress and modern buildings.

I believe appreciation for the gift goes to Superintendent Flory, who must have had something to do with the decision to share.

Breathes there a woman who would want to trade today's sheer Nylon and Cantrece hose for the silk and rayons of yesteryear?

What prompted this foolish question was the ad of a Hondo store which appeared in the Anvil Herald of July 20, 1922: "Attention, Ladies: We now have in stock genuine ARMOR PLATE silk Hosiery. Guaranteed to last and last!"

But, first, a word about the bright red and silver fireplugs and the big blue and white containers made by CAMP FIRE GIRLS to keep Hondo's streets clean and ready to impress both the residents and company. Congratulations!

Have you heard about the woman [natch!] who had four letters to mail and only five 8c stamps. She placed an 8-center on each, cut the extra in fourths and licked away.

Attending the meeting were Virginia Clift, chairman; Nancy Buescher, Franklin Wiemers, Martin Noonan and Librarian Lottie Maw, and Secretary Ina Mansell. By unanimous vote, Mrs. Buescher was elected vice-chairman.

Among matters discussed by the Board members were the recently acquired shelves, selection of Seventh Anniversary books and current activities of the Hondo Junior Service League and the wonderful way they are helping the library.

The library has been the recipient of several memorials honoring Mrs. O. A. (Millie) Fly. These have come from Harry E. Filleman, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buescher, Lottie Maw, Mabel Holloway and Ina Mansell.

Two lovely displays for the Easter season were gifts of talented Lela Stout, an Easter bunny garden, and Glena Reily, beautiful roses. Miss Reily also gave a group of picture books for the children's Summer Reading Program and Story Hour.

Magazines were received from Martin Noonan, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Redus, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Foster and the Paul Reily family, who also honored Nancy Buescher with the gift of the Living Bible (Wm. Tyndale edition, translated).

Other reading material was donated by Ann-Michelle Vance, paperbacks and magazines; Mrs. Wm. B. Green, paperbacks; Maude Bulgerin, paperbacks; Hattie Laughinghouse, paperbacks; Virginia Clift, Reader's Digest Condensed Books and Doubleday's triple-volume detective book, and Evelyn Lacy, paperbacks.

A cash donation was received from C. A. Haass. The latest best-seller from Literary Guild, "Times to Remember" by Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy is now available to readers.

Mrs. Maw reminds all library patrons not to forget those overdue books. They are needed. Regular library hours are 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and the bookdrop is open at all hours.

THE WINNERS. . .already these two are claiming they are going to win the best chili plaque in the second annual Southwest Texas Championship Chili Cook on May 4 during Museum Celebration Days. David Cuellar of Hondo holds up the hand of D. B. Pevehouse of Tarpley, saying in effect: "We are the winners, come on and try to beat us." The pot they are using belonged to Pevehouse's grandfather and is an oldie. Chairman Judy Schumann says there is already a lot of interest in the event and she needs anyone who can help to contact her. [Photo by Tony Mendoza]

Local Chapter No. 191 Germania Farm Mutual Aid Association will hold a meeting at 8 p.m. April 30 at New Fountain Methodist Church Educational Building. Items of business to be discussed. All members are urged to attend.

BLUE BIRD NEWS

April 17, Loving Bluebirds met at the Lutheran Church and held their weekly meeting. We collected money from the sale of Campfire Bar-B-Q tickets. The Bar-B-Q will be held Saturday, April 20, at the City Park. Serving starts at 5:30. We also collected articles for sale in the Country Store at the Bar-B-Q.

It was decided to cancel the meeting scheduled for April 24 in favor of working on Saturday, April 27, from 9:00 til 12:00 picking up litter for Beautify America Week. The Garden Club of Hondo has asked all organizations to participate and to meet at the Memorial Park for a sack lunch and they are supplying the soda water. We think this is a worthwhile cause and helps teach our young Bluebird girls respect for our city and good citizenship.

Refreshments were then served by Lisa Schoellman.

Those present were: Deena Schur, Gina Haass, Sherry Marty, Lisa Schoellman, Yvonne Dittmar, Dianna Lindeburg, Mary Alice Mendoza, Esther DeLeon, Inez Ontiveras and Norma Carabajal.

Happy Face

We had an Easter egg hunt on April the 10th. Kim Winkler was our guest for the day. All the members were present and Thelma Villarreal served refreshments. A week before we had made recipe holders for our mothers for Easter and we took them home with us that day. We had a lot of fun.

On April the 17th, we met at Monica Schulte's home after saying our Bluebirds wish and lighting the candle, we had a full day. We played games and later we had cookies, pizza and cold drinks for refreshment served by Velma Garcia.

Meeting set

Plans for another Blood Services visit to Hondo will be made at a meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 13, in the Audio Visual Room at Hondo High School.

This coming blood drive will be under the supervision of the Junior Service League assisted by many groups and individuals in Hondo.

Anyone who is interested in helping is urged to attend the May 13 meeting.

This week

All she wrote

by Edna McDade

By the next issue of Medina County's Leading Newspaper since 1886, Geoffrey Chaucer's ". . . that Aprille with his shoures" will have come and gone, to be followed, as it was in GC's time, by "May with alle thy floures and thy grene. Wel-come be thou, fair fresshe May."

Quoting Chaucer takes me back to my tenth grade days, when spelling was still a daily exercise and we were just being introduced to Chaucer. One boy in the class was what our teacher called "almost a hopeless speller." His defense: "Well, Chaucer didn't score so high, either!"

Remember when turkey was served on such special occasions as Thanksgiving, Christmas, anniversaries etc.?

A March inventory reported 182 million pounds of turkey in cold storage and more to come. Cold turkey!

Figure out how many drumsticks and second helpings of giblet gravy that would make. Farmers say they can't afford to feed the present crop of young turkeys under those conditions. Maybe we can look forward to tender young birds at what every food ad will claim is "the lowest price in town."

Will power has been defined as the ability to eat only ONE salted peanut. For those without this proof of will power, it must be reassuring to know that the USDA has increased the 1974 peanut planting allotment by 2,416 acres of which 229 acres will be added to the Texas allowable.

ELLA [Mrs. Alfred] BRUCKS had some beautiful roses gracefully winding their colorful, sweet-scented way around trellises in her front yard a few weeks ago. Perhaps they are still blooming.

In all fairness, credit for building the trellis backgrounds should go to Alfred who, Ella says, "can build most anything he takes a notion to build."

Time for the final "readying up" preparations for Museum Days, May 4-5, is a-waistin' mighty fast now but, as of last report, the situation seemed to be well in hand.

Lest MARTIN NOONAN be nursing hurt feelings because his balloon booth didn't get honorable mention in the pre-view schedule, be assured that balloons are always a big item on M-Days, blown up to all proportions and available in a kaleidoscope of colors, ready to sail sky-high or be popped without notice. Look for them and invest in the fun.

One sure thing about the Museum grounds is this: If the cactus bed apron-ing the front entrance to the building isn't looking its prettiest, it will not be due to neglect. Last time I saw ELLA OEFINGER, she was on her knees, manicuring every spiny cactus, one by one. A labor of love and dedication to volunteer duty.

And, speaking of Oefingers, AGNES [Mrs. Ben], always the essence of generous hospitality, invited me to visit her for "a whole week or more" next Hondo trip and I know she meant it, bless her generous spirit.

I have happy memories of the trips we made to the Ranch when Ben and Agnes shared host duties and made guests feel welcome and eager to return for more of the same.

PAT GRUNEWALD told me she was glad I asked about her twin granddaughters because she "just happened to have" pictures of Cindy and Connie, now at the always adorable 3-year stage. I could not have told "which from each" but one is curly haired and the other has straight locks for her crowning glory.

Parents of the twins are CARLA and CLAYBORNE BOEHLE and their grandparents "on both sides" think they are the perfect answers to every grandparent's dream. Who wouldn't?

A visit with CAPPI [Mrs. Colby] HEYEN is always a special treat for me and we shared reminiscences after the meeting of the Museum Board earlier this month. I have known Cappi, whose father, JOE GRANERI, always called his tomboy daughter, since she was knee-high to a rattlesnake and "Rattlesnake" was one of her many nicknames.

Cappi is a dedicated Museum enthusiast even if she dismisses credit by saying "It's fun and team-work makes it enjoyable." When she told me that her older son, Chris [14] and in the 8th grade was now 5'8" and weighing 170 pounds, I told her that's what happens to once-little sons. Cliff, the Heyen's No. 2 son, is a 7th grader and still very much a fisherman.

The Museum now boasts "educated" storage cabinets. Lining the walls are some well-made glass-front cabinets that once filled the needs of one of the local schools [perhaps Lacy?] before they got "outgrown", by progress and modern buildings.

I believe appreciation for the gift goes to Superintendent Flory, who must have had something to do with the decision to share.

Breathes there a woman who would want to trade today's sheer Nylon and Cantrece hose for the silk and rayons of yesteryear?

What prompted this foolish question was the ad of a Hondo store which appeared in the Anvil Herald of July 20, 1922: "Attention, Ladies: We now have in stock genuine ARMOR PLATE silk Hosiery. Guaranteed to last and last!"

But, first, a word about the bright red and silver fireplugs and the big blue and white containers made by CAMP FIRE GIRLS to keep Hondo's streets clean and ready to impress both the residents and company. Congratulations!

Have you heard about the woman [natch!] who had four letters to mail and only five 8c stamps. She placed an 8-center on each, cut the extra in fourths and licked away.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Guevara Jr. of Riverside, California announce the arrival of their twin sons, Jason and Jacob.

Jason weighed three pounds, six ounces and was 15½ inches long and was born March 30, 1974 at 11:55 p.m. and Jacob weighed three pounds, four ounces and he was 16½ inches long and arrived March 31 at 12:02 a.m. at Loma Linda University Medical Center, Loma Linda, California.

They are being welcomed by their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Guevara of Natalia and Mr. and Mrs. M. Longoria of San Antonio and great-grandmothers, Mrs. Cipriana Guevara of Natalia and Mrs. Rosa Garcia of San Antonio.

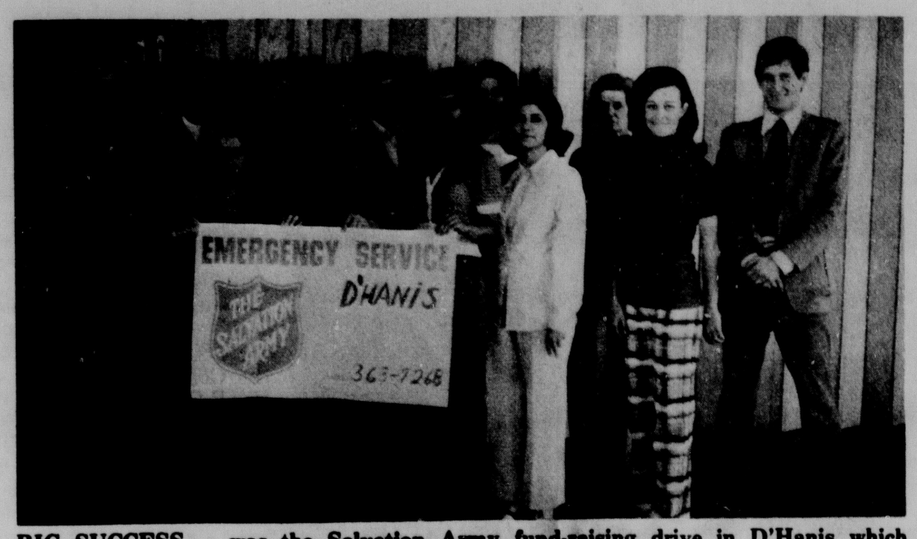

Victor is a 1971 graduate of the Natalia High School.

Bill Neumans go to Spain

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neuman of Bandera attended a Leaders Business Conference in Madrid, Spain.

While in Madrid they toured the Palace, the Valley of the Fallen and also went to Toledo which is about 50 miles from Madrid.

They flew over non-stop from Houston to Madrid in the jumbo jet. A good time was had by all who attended.

BIG SUCCESS. . .was the Salvation Army fund-raising drive in D'Hanis which netted $409.50 from the almost 500 inhabitants of that town. This was the first year D'Hanis has participated in the drive as a community. Shown are team members Father Victor Schmidtzinsky, Bertha Trevino, Cindy Zerr, Blanca Garcia, Earline Schlort, Mary Tovar, Joyce Lutz, Lucy Muniz, Diana Wolff, Mrs. Ben Rodriguez, Mrs. Raymond Nester, Dottie Wolff and Area representative Guy Combs of the Salvation Army.

D'Hanis fund drive a success

Congratulations are in order for Father Victor Schmidtzinsky and his fund-collection committee in D'Hanis.

The committee managed to collect $409.50 from the small city of about 500 inhabitants--more than three times larger than the previous D'Hanis record. The campaign was held during the months of March and April, and is being closed out this week.

Salvation Army area field representative Guy Combs reports that the County-wide appeal will probably break last year's record amount of $2,000.

"We are now at nearly $1,800, with most of Castroville yet to come in," Combs noted.

"We should be able to break the record by at least $200."

Salvation Army aid helped rehabilitate victims of heavy flooding which struck Medina County and particularly D'Hanis in 1935, 1958 and 1971.

Arts foundation offers drama courses

Courses in art and drama will be offered to high school students at the Hill Country Arts Foundation of Ingram, this summer. This addition to the educational program will benefit students in grades 9 through 12, and will start June 3.

One full credit may be earned in the six weeks course; or one-half credit for three weeks study. The courses have been designed to be consistent with the policies of the Texas Education Agency, and to meet the requirements of local school systems for credit toward graduation from high school.

Instructors will be Andy Ritch of Schreiner-College, in drama; and Leah Schlief of Tivy High School, in art. Classes will be held Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

In addition, two sessions of the Foundation's Junior Workshop will be offered for ages 7-13. Each session will be four weeks in length building toward a special presentation. Emphasis will be placed on preparing for an actual performance rather than on drills.

To begin, the first session is set for June 10 to July 5, with Dance and Tumbling, Drama, and Music. The second session is from July 15 to Aug. 9, and includes the previous schedule with Art added.

Further information may be had from the HCAF, Box 176, Ingram, Texas 78025, or by telephoning 367-5710.

Items needed

Items are needed for the country store at Museum Day.

Good sellers are baked goods, jams and jellies, pickles and relishes and handmade articles.

The Hondo Home Demonstration Club will again be in charge of sales with all profits going to the County Museum Association.

Items may be brought to the booth during the celebration or you may call Mrs. Fred DeGrodt, H.D. Club president, if you wish to leave them prior to the day.

Castroville schedules Festival and Musical

Combining their efforts, the Castro Garden Club and the Medina Valley School Band Patrons will hold an Arts and Crafts Festival and Musical Gala in Castroville Sunday, May 5, from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

Artists and Craftsmen have been invited to exhibit on the campus of Moye Formation Center.

The Medina Valley Band will give a concert in St. Louis Church at 3 p.m. A Flea Market will be held on Houston Square.

A dinner will be served by the Band Patrons from noon to 2 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Robert Quill Johnson will have his Studio and Museum open. Garden Club members will welcome visitors to their Yum Yum Shop, Attic Sale of Odds and Ends, and Plant and Flower Mart in the Moye Auditorium and downstairs gallery.

A list of ships and of the first settlers of the Castro Colony, and a census of Medina County of 1854 should be of interest to history buffs. The work of the students of Alex Caragonne, Prof. of Architecture of SAC will be on display. There will be plenty to see and enjoy.

Salvation Army area field representative Guy Combs reports that the County-wide appeal will probably break last year's record amount of $2,000.

"We are now at nearly $1,800, with most of Castroville yet to come in," Combs noted.

"We should be able to break the record by at least $200."

Salvation Army aid helped rehabilitate victims of heavy flooding which struck Medina County and particularly D'Hanis in 1935, 1958 and 1971.

Arts foundation offers drama courses

Courses in art and drama will be offered to high school students at the Hill Country Arts Foundation of Ingram, this summer. This addition to the educational program will benefit students in grades 9 through 12, and will start June 3.

One full credit may be earned in the six weeks course; or one-half credit for three weeks study. The courses have been designed to be consistent with the policies of the Texas Education Agency, and to meet the requirements of local school systems for credit toward graduation from high school.

Instructors will be Andy Ritch of Schreiner-College, in drama; and Leah Schlief of Tivy High School, in art. Classes will be held Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

In addition, two sessions of the Foundation's Junior Workshop will be offered for ages 7-13. Each session will be four weeks in length building toward a special presentation. Emphasis will be placed on preparing for an actual performance rather than on drills.

To begin, the first session is set for June 10 to July 5, with Dance and Tumbling, Drama, and Music. The second session is from July 15 to Aug. 9, and includes the previous schedule with Art added.

Further information may be had from the HCAF, Box 176, Ingram, Texas 78025, or by telephoning 367-5710.

Items needed

Items are needed for the country store at Museum Day.

Good sellers are baked goods, jams and jellies, pickles and relishes and handmade articles.

The Hondo Home Demonstration Club will again be in charge of sales with all profits going to the County Museum Association.

Items may be brought to the booth during the celebration or you may call Mrs. Fred DeGrodt, H.D. Club president, if you wish to leave them prior to the day.

Castroville schedules Festival and Musical

Combining their efforts, the Castro Garden Club and the Medina Valley School Band Patrons will hold an Arts and Crafts Festival and Musical Gala in Castroville Sunday, May 5, from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

Artists and Craftsmen have been invited to exhibit on the campus of Moye Formation Center.

The Medina Valley Band will give a concert in St. Louis Church at 3 p.m. A Flea Market will be held on Houston Square.

A dinner will be served by the Band Patrons from noon to 2 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Robert Quill Johnson will have his Studio and Museum open. Garden Club members will welcome visitors to their Yum Yum Shop, Attic Sale of Odds and Ends, and Plant and Flower Mart in the Moye Auditorium and downstairs gallery.

A list of ships and of the first settlers of the Castro Colony, and a census of Medina County of 1854 should be of interest to history buffs. The work of the students of Alex Caragonne, Prof. of Architecture of SAC will be on display. There will be plenty to see and enjoy.

ASK FOR OUR PROFESSIONAL OPINION.
To obtain our license to practice pharmacy required many years at college and practical experience. Hondo Lions to sell blind-made products

The Hondo Lions Club, assisted by Hondo High School Band members, will conduct an all-out drive on Wednesday, May 8, 1974, to sell quality blind-made products to residents and local businesses, according to an announcement made by Lion Billy A. Harrell, Chairman.

"Nelson Wolff is a man of character and principle. Conservative minded with an urban-rural outlook. I plan to vote for him."
Congressman O.C. Fisher

Congressman Fisher (right) and the only man he's endorsed in 32 years. Nelson Wolff.

"Nelson Wolff would make a good Congressman."

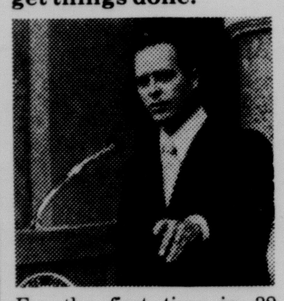

But then he should. For the past four years, Nelson Wolff has been in Austin working for his constituents. Learning what the legislative process is all about. Learning how to get things done. How to write a bill, get it through committee and passed. He's an experienced and effective legislator. Congress needs this kind of experience. So do the people of the 21st Congressional District.

"He knows the district."

Nelson Wolff was raised and educated in the 21st District. He works in the district, a citizen-legislator. As a cattle rancher, he knows the needs of the agricultural industry and the necessity to develop these areas. As the owner, along with his father and two younger brothers, of a lumber business. Nelson Wolff knows the city, too. He has an urban-rural outlook.

"He knows how to get things done."

For the first time in 32 years, Congressman O. C. Fisher is endorsing someone for public office. Nelson Wolff. Because Nelson Wolff knows how to get things done. And now, more than ever, we need men with experience and know-how. Congress is no place for a beginner.

Sod house survey

Did you ever live in a sod house, a dugout, or an adobe building; or were you born in one? Did you ever teach school, attend school or church services in such a building, or help build one? Or are you a child or perhaps a grandchild of a former pioneer sod house dweller or builder?

If you can answer "yes" to any of these questions, the Sod House Society of America, with headquarters at Colby, Kansas, would like to hear from you. The unique society is making an effort to compile a census of people who have had any kind of personal experience with sod houses, including dugouts, part sod, and adobe buildings, which were once common in the United States, Canada, and Mexico; also the descendants of such persons.

If you are a former sod dweller or a direct descendant of a family that can claim a part of the sod house heritage during the pioneer settlement era of North America, or in more recent times, the society wishes to have the information to include in a permanent historical record of sod, dugout, and adobe dwellers and their families.

To make this survey a success, information is needed from people in all parts of North America. Sod buildings in some form were used in well over half the North American continent. If you have any information concerning present or former sod dwellers, your report of this will be most welcome. Please tell where the buildings were located, and give family names, as well as your own. Reports should be sent to:

The Hondo FFA Chapter Parent and Son Banquet will be held at McDowell Cafeteria May 2 at 8 p.m. This is the occasion the local chapter uses to express its appreciation to parents and other adults who assist the local FFA and Vocational Agriculture program through the year.

The program will be presented by chapter officers and members.

Special recognition will be given to individuals and team members who have excelled in some way. Menu will include roast beef and brown gravy. Also, mashed potatoes, mixed vegetables, jello salad, hot rolls and apple cobbler dessert.

A&I students in recital

Two Medina County music students at Texas A&I University will perform in a recital Sunday, April 21, in the Concert Hall of the Frank C. Smith Fine Arts Center.

Darrel Gan of Devine will be in a trombone sextet which will perform Ravel's "Pavane"; and Abel Dominguez of Hondo will play in a saxophone quartet performing "Adagio and Allegro" by Handel and "Mysticism" and "Purism" by Dedrick.

The group presented "Hail, AI&"; "Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray" by Goodell; "The Spacious Firmament on High ('Creation)" by Haydn; and "If I Had a Hammer" and "Kum by Yah", both folk songs.

Social Security News

Persons receiving Social Security benefits can earn more in 1974 without having their benefit payments withheld than they could in 1973.

Gilbert G. Gonzalez, district manager of the San Antonio, Texas Social Security office, wishes to emphasize that the exempt amount of earnings has been increased to $2400 in 1974. In 1973, the exempt amount was $2100. Anyone who receives Social Security payments and expects to earn more than $2400 should notify the Social Security office if he has not already done so.

Gonzalez also pointed out that if annual earnings of over $2400 in 1974, Social Security withholds $1 in benefits for each $2 in earnings above the $2400 limit. Additionally, no matter how much you earn a year, you can get full benefits for any month in which you do not earn over $200 in wages and you don't perform substantial services in self-employment.

Gonzalez also reminded those beneficiaries whose 1973 earnings exceed $2100 to file a report with the Social Security office on or before April 15th. "Late filing may result in a penalty in addition to the normal withholding of benefit payments," Gonzalez stated.

The easiest way to conduct Social Security business these days is by telephone, according to Barton Irby, Field Representative, of the San Antonio Social Security office. Whatever the problem, from filing an application to reporting an event that affects Social Security or Supplemental Security Benefits, it is generally much easier to telephone the Social Security office than to drop by.

Also, in these days of gasoline shortages, it helps conserve energy. Mr. Irby said that although a telephone call is preferable, it is certainly not mandatory -- just faster and more economical. "A visit to our office is more appropriate when a serious problem exists that requires more lengthy discussion," he said.

The San Antonio Social Security office is located at 309 Dwyer Avenue. The telephone number is 225-5511. For further information see your Social Security representative when he is in your area.

Your representative will be in Hondo at the Council Chamber on Monday, May 6, at 9:00 a.m.

HONORARY STATE FARMER. . .degrees were conferred on Alton Davis [left] and Dr. Charles Crouch at the Revaldina District FFA banquet held here Thursday night.

Sod house survey

Did you ever live in a sod house, a dugout, or an adobe building; or were you born in one? Did you ever teach school, attend school or church services in such a building, or help build one? Or are you a child or perhaps a grandchild of a former pioneer sod house dweller or builder?

If you can answer "yes" to any of these questions, the Sod House Society of America, with headquarters at Colby, Kansas, would like to hear from you. The unique society is making an effort to compile a census of people who have had any kind of personal experience with sod houses, including dugouts, part sod, and adobe buildings, which were once common in the United States, Canada, and Mexico; also the descendants of such persons.

If you are a former sod dweller or a direct descendant of a family that can claim a part of the sod house heritage during the pioneer settlement era of North America, or in more recent times, the society wishes to have the information to include in a permanent historical record of sod, dugout, and adobe dwellers and their families.

To make this survey a success, information is needed from people in all parts of North America. Sod buildings in some form were used in well over half the North American continent. If you have any information concerning present or former sod dwellers, your report of this will be most welcome. Please tell where the buildings were located, and give family names, as well as your own. Reports should be sent to:

The Revaldina FFA District Banquet was held at McDowell Cafeteria April 18.

District FFA officers and other FFA members conducted the program, while Hondo Future Homemakers served the meal.

Master of Ceremonies was Tim Hardt, District President. Larry McWilliams, Hondo FFA President, extended the welcome and Robert Stewart, Uvalde FFA President, responded. Alan Klaus of Knippa gave the invocation.

In the District contests, Alan Klaus won the Public Speaking competition. Tim Hardt was elected Area VII Officer nominee and Daniel McGrath of Medina Valley FFA was elected State Officer nominee. Miss Susan Twilligear of Leakey was selected District FFA Sweetheart from among 11 nominees.

All these winners will compete on the Area level at Fredericksburg May 10 and 11.

Honorary Stae Farmer Degree was conferred by the Devine chapter on Charles Crouch, Devine veterinarian and Hondo dairyman Alton Davis. Both are former FFA members at Devine and Natalia, respectively. While in High School at Natalia, Davis was awarded the American Farmer Degree for his dairy project.

Degree and Scholarship Check-up will be held at Natalia High School May 1. At this time State Farmer and American Farmer degrees and other scholarship applications will be checked for correction before moving on to Area degree check in May at Fredericksburg.

Chapter Banquet

The Hondo FFA Chapter Parent and Son Banquet will be held at McDowell Cafeteria May 2 at 8 p.m. This is the occasion the local chapter uses to express its appreciation to parents and other adults who assist the local FFA and Vocational Agriculture program through the year.

The program will be presented by chapter officers and members.

Special recognition will be given to individuals and team members who have excelled in some way. Menu will include roast beef and brown gravy. Also, mashed potatoes, mixed vegetables, jello salad, hot rolls and apple cobbler dessert.

A&I students in recital

Two Medina County music students at Texas A&I University will perform in a recital Sunday, April 21, in the Concert Hall of the Frank C. Smith Fine Arts Center.

Darrel Gan of Devine will be in a trombone sextet which will perform Ravel's "Pavane"; and Abel Dominguez of Hondo will play in a saxophone quartet performing "Adagio and Allegro" by Handel and "Mysticism" and "Purism" by Dedrick.

Hondo grads among A&I group

Abel Dominguez and John Rodriguez, both Hondo graduates, were among 20 students presented in a Music Department recital at Texas A&I University April 23. The two performed in a voice class composed of 17 members.

The group presented "Hail, AI&"; "Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray" by Goodell; "The Spacious Firmament on High ('Creation)" by Haydn; and "If I Had a Hammer" and "Kum by Yah", both folk songs.

Social Security News

Persons receiving Social Security benefits can earn more in 1974 without having their benefit payments withheld than they could in 1973.

Gilbert G. Gonzalez, district manager of the San Antonio, Texas Social Security office, wishes to emphasize that the exempt amount of earnings has been increased to $2400 in 1974. In 1973, the exempt amount was $2100. Anyone who receives Social Security payments and expects to earn more than $2400 should notify the Social Security office if he has not already done so.

Gonzalez also pointed out that if annual earnings of over $2400 in 1974, Social Security withholds $1 in benefits for each $2 in earnings above the $2400 limit. Additionally, no matter how much you earn a year, you can get full benefits for any month in which you do not earn over $200 in wages and you don't perform substantial services in self-employment.

Gonzalez also reminded those beneficiaries whose 1973 earnings exceed $2100 to file a report with the Social Security office on or before April 15th. "Late filing may result in a penalty in addition to the normal withholding of benefit payments," Gonzalez stated.

The easiest way to conduct Social Security business these days is by telephone, according to Barton Irby, Field Representative, of the San Antonio Social Security office. Whatever the problem, from filing an application to reporting an event that affects Social Security or Supplemental Security Benefits, it is generally much easier to telephone the Social Security office than to drop by.

Also, in these days of gasoline shortages, it helps conserve energy. Mr. Irby said that although a telephone call is preferable, it is certainly not mandatory -- just faster and more economical. "A visit to our office is more appropriate when a serious problem exists that requires more lengthy discussion," he said.

The San Antonio Social Security office is located at 309 Dwyer Avenue. The telephone number is 225-5511. For further information see your Social Security representative when he is in your area.

Your representative will be in Hondo at the Council Chamber on Monday, May 6, at 9:00 a.m.

Poerner calls for restoring confidence

SAN ANTONIO -- State Rep. John H. Poerner today emphasized again that confidence must be restored in federal government, and he said some of his 21st District Congressional opponents are "not doing anything to further that cause."

The Hondo rancher and businessman said the charges and countercharges his foes are hurling at each other are just making the people more dissatisfied with politicians.

"This campaign should be based on the issues that concern the people of the district, and what each candidate proposes to do about them. When candidates begin mudslinging, they are adding to the public feeling that politicians are untrustworthy," Poerner said.

He added that what the people are concerned with today are the economy, water, natural resources, energy, military strength and what elected officials plan to do about them.

"These are the issues we should be discussing, because only by letting the voters know how we stand on them can the voters make their choice of a candidate they can have faith in," Poerner said.

Stocker-feeder show and sale set

The first Stocker Feeder Cattle Show and Sale of 1974 will be held at Union Stock Yards, San Antonio, Thursday, May 9. This spring sale should attract numerous buyers and arouse a great deal of buying and selling interest.

The judges will be selected from South Texas cattlemen with a practical knowledge of the needs of the industry. Judging will begin at 7:30 a.m. and the auction will begin at 9 a.m. and the prize winning cattle will be sold at 11 a.m.

Herefords, Angus and Crossbred may be shown for awards in steer and heifer classes in lots of 10, 20 and 40. However, this sale is open to all classes of cattle, and cattle need not be shown for awards to enter this sale. Sales of this kind normally attract a wide variety of cattle and a broad buying demand.

The purpose of this special sale is to provide a better market quality Stocker Feeder Cattle and to provide Producers an opportunity to display and sell their cattle in uniform lots shaped up and at a time and place where the large number of animals will enable the many buyers to buy their requirements.

Tractor efficiency stressed

J. D. Schmidt and John McAnelly, Vocational Agriculture instructors at Hondo High School, submit the following suggestions for making the maximum use of tractor fuel. The information was provided by Norman K. Waggoner, Tractor Maintenance Specialist at Texas A&M University.

Waggoner states that never has there been a time when a good schedule of regular maintenance was more important than now. No engine can make maximum use of fuel without an abundance of clean air and clean fuel. This calls for servicing the air filter to assure the engine's "free breathing". Give special attention to keeping the fuel clean and servicing the fuel filter.

Operators may be forced to accept a low grade fuel that may be high in sulfur content. Sulfur in diesel fuel should not exceed one-half of one per cent. A greater percentage than this will require more frequent oil changes.

Tillage practices might well be analyzed. Can the number of trips over the field be reduced without affecting yield? Can some tillage operations be combined? Maybe we should ask ourselves, "is this trip really necessary?" Being sure tillage implements are properly adjusted will relieve side draft and reduce power requirements.

Selecting the proper forward gear to match the load will greatly improve efficiency. In many cases an operator can shift up to the next higher gear and throttle back. Diesel tractors give better fuel economy when fully loaded.

Weigh the tractor to keep wheel slippage below 15%. Preferrably about 10%. It has been found that wheel slippage of between 15-20 percent increases fuel consumption 10% and tire wear 40%. Excessive weight will also waste fuel. So good judgment is required here. Using the small tractor for small jobs and big tractor for big jobs is more important than ever.

Don't "baby" the tractor, load it and work it. Remember that an engine that is idling is not idle at all. It is burning valuable fuel.

VAN ARCHER SHARES YOUR CONCERNS. HE WILL WORK FOR YOU!

"This is supposed to be a bad year for Republicans. The Watergate scandal has blown up out of all proportion, and a jackal pack is now screaming for the President's scalp. Some Republicans are so discouraged they're thinking of 'sitting this one out.'

"Now more than ever, when our principles, our party, and our leadership are under attack, we've got to step forward and put ourselves on the line for what we believe."

"That's why I'm running for Congress this year. I'm a family man with three sons. I know this district and its people. I've lived here all my life. I know your deep concerns and I share them. I believe the district wants and needs a common sense conservative to represent them in Washington."

We all know what the big issues are:

"THE LEFTWARD DRIFT OF CONGRESS with government overspending causing inflation. Downgrading national defense, endangering our security. Excessive concentration of bureaucratic power."

"ENVIRONMENTAL EXTREMISTS worrying more about Alaskan caribou than in building a pipeline to provide essential oil. Stopping the North Freeway because it cut a little-used corner of a park. Coddling coyotes while farmers suffer from livestock losses."

"THE ENERGY CRISIS isn't a joke or a fraud. Liberal demagogues wrongly make Texas oilmen the scapegoats. Self-sufficiency and development are the answers."

"No magic wand will make these problems disappear, but one honest man can make a start. I want to take some Texas toughness up to Washington to unsnarl these problems. SO PLEASE...

Stocker-feeder show and sale set

The first Stocker Feeder Cattle Show and Sale of 1974 will be held at Union Stock Yards, San Antonio, Thursday, May 9. This spring sale should attract numerous buyers and arouse a great deal of buying and selling interest.

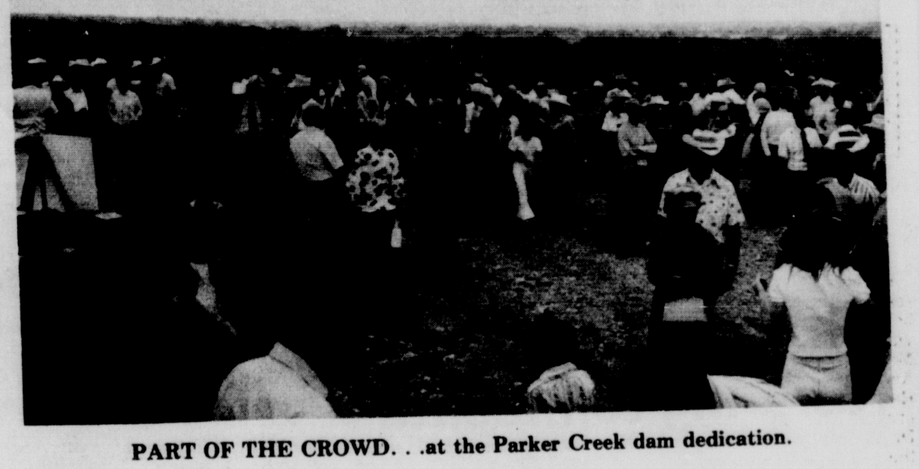

The judges will be selected from South Texas cattlemen with a practical knowledge of the needs of the industry. Judging will begin at 7:30 a.m. and the auction will begin at 9 a.m. and the prize winning cattle will be sold at 11 a.m.

Herefords, Angus and Crossbred may be shown for awards in steer and heifer classes in lots of 10, 20 and 40. However, this sale is open to all classes of cattle, and cattle need not be shown for awards to enter this sale. Sales of this kind normally attract a wide variety of cattle and a broad buying demand.

The purpose of this special sale is to provide a better market quality Stocker Feeder Cattle and to provide Producers an opportunity to display and sell their cattle in uniform lots shaped up and at a time and place where the large number of animals will enable the many buyers to buy their requirements.

TABLE BUILDERS. . .from the Medina County Association for Exceptional Children include [in no special order] Advisor Hubert Hermes, Abelardo Garcia, Jeff Spears, Tommy Lopez, Roger Moreno, Panta Garcia and [not pictured] Robert Mares and Manuel Cortez. They will build two round tables and two long rectangular tables for the Auction May 5 that follows Museum Day.

PART OF THE CROWD. . .at the Parker Creek dam dedication.

ANOTHER CROWD SCENE. . .shows the interested people to journey to the Parker Creek dam for a look around.

Tractor efficiency stressed

J. D. Schmidt and John McAnelly, Vocational Agriculture instructors at Hondo High School, submit the following suggestions for making the maximum use of tractor fuel. The information was provided by Norman K. Waggoner, Tractor Maintenance Specialist at Texas A&M University.

Waggoner states that never has there been a time when a good schedule of regular maintenance was more important than now. No engine can make maximum use of fuel without an abundance of clean air and clean fuel. This calls for servicing the air filter to assure the engine's "free breathing". Give special attention to keeping the fuel clean and servicing the fuel filter.

Operators may be forced to accept a low grade fuel that may be high in sulfur content. Sulfur in diesel fuel should not exceed one-half of one per cent. A greater percentage than this will require more frequent oil changes.

Tillage practices might well be analyzed. Can the number of trips over the field be reduced without affecting yield? Can some tillage operations be combined? Maybe we should ask ourselves, "is this trip really necessary?" Being sure tillage implements are properly adjusted will relieve side draft and reduce power requirements.

Selecting the proper forward gear to match the load will greatly improve efficiency. In many cases an operator can shift up to the next higher gear and throttle back. Diesel tractors give better fuel economy when fully loaded.

Weigh the tractor to keep wheel slippage below 15%. Preferrably about 10%. It has been found that wheel slippage of between 15-20 percent increases fuel consumption 10% and tire wear 40%. Excessive weight will also waste fuel. So good judgment is required here. Using the small tractor for small jobs and big tractor for big jobs is more important than ever.

Don't "baby" the tractor, load it and work it. Remember that an engine that is idling is not idle at all. It is burning valuable fuel.

Stocker-feeder show and sale set

The first Stocker Feeder Cattle Show and Sale of 1974 will be held at Union Stock Yards, San Antonio, Thursday, May 9. This spring sale should attract numerous buyers and arouse a great deal of buying and selling interest.

The judges will be selected from South Texas cattlemen with a practical knowledge of the needs of the industry. Judging will begin at 7:30 a.m. and the auction will begin at 9 a.m. and the prize winning cattle will be sold at 11 a.m.

Herefords, Angus and Crossbred may be shown for awards in steer and heifer classes in lots of 10, 20 and 40. However, this sale is open to all classes of cattle, and cattle need not be shown for awards to enter this sale. Sales of this kind normally attract a wide variety of cattle and a broad buying demand.

The purpose of this special sale is to provide a better market quality Stocker Feeder Cattle and to provide Producers an opportunity to display and sell their cattle in uniform lots shaped up and at a time and place where the large number of animals will enable the many buyers to buy their requirements.

TABLE BUILDERS. . .from the Medina County Association for Exceptional Children include [in no special order] Advisor Hubert Hermes, Abelardo Garcia, Jeff Spears, Tommy Lopez, Roger Moreno, Panta Garcia and [not pictured] Robert Mares and Manuel Cortez. They will build two round tables and two long rectangular tables for the Auction May 5 that follows Museum Day.

ANOTHER CROWD SCENE. . .shows the interested people to journey to the Parker Creek dam for a look around.

Tractor efficiency stressed

J. D. Schmidt and John McAnelly, Vocational Agriculture instructors at Hondo High School, submit the following suggestions for making the maximum use of tractor fuel. The information was provided by Norman K. Waggoner, Tractor Maintenance Specialist at Texas A&M University.

Waggoner states that never has there been a time when a good schedule of regular maintenance was more important than now. No engine can make maximum use of fuel without an abundance of clean air and clean fuel. This calls for servicing the air filter to assure the engine's "free breathing". Give special attention to keeping the fuel clean and servicing the fuel filter.

Operators may be forced to accept a low grade fuel that may be high in sulfur content. Sulfur in diesel fuel should not exceed one-half of one per cent. A greater percentage than this will require more frequent oil changes.

Tillage practices might well be analyzed. Can the number of trips over the field be reduced without affecting yield? Can some tillage operations be combined? Maybe we should ask ourselves, "is this trip really necessary?" Being sure tillage implements are properly adjusted will relieve side draft and reduce power requirements.

Selecting the proper forward gear to match the load will greatly improve efficiency. In many cases an operator can shift up to the next higher gear and throttle back. Diesel tractors give better fuel economy when fully loaded.

Weigh the tractor to keep wheel slippage below 15%. Preferrably about 10%. It has been found that wheel slippage of between 15-20 percent increases fuel consumption 10% and tire wear 40%. Excessive weight will also waste fuel. So good judgment is required here. Using the small tractor for small jobs and big tractor for big jobs is more important than ever.

Don't "baby" the tractor, load it and work it. Remember that an engine that is idling is not idle at all. It is burning valuable fuel.

"This is supposed to be a bad year for Republicans. The Watergate scandal has blown up out of all proportion, and a jackal pack is now screaming for the President's scalp. Some Republicans are so discouraged they're thinking of 'sitting this one out.'

"Now more than ever, when our principles, our party, and our leadership are under attack, we've got to step forward and put ourselves on the line for what we believe."

"That's why I'm running for Congress this year. I'm a family man with three sons. I know this district and its people. I've lived here all my life. I know your deep concerns and I share them. I believe the district wants and needs a common sense conservative to represent them in Washington."

We all know what the big issues are:

"THE LEFTWARD DRIFT OF CONGRESS with government overspending causing inflation. Downgrading national defense, endangering our security. Excessive concentration of bureaucratic power."

"ENVIRONMENTAL EXTREMISTS worrying more about Alaskan caribou than in building a pipeline to provide essential oil. Stopping the North Freeway because it cut a little-used corner of a park. Coddling coyotes while farmers suffer from livestock losses."

"THE ENERGY CRISIS isn't a joke or a fraud. Liberal demagogues wrongly make Texas oilmen the scapegoats. Self-sufficiency and development are the answers."

"No magic wand will make these problems disappear, but one honest man can make a start. I want to take some Texas toughness up to Washington to unsnarl these problems. SO PLEASE...

Stocker-feeder show and sale set

The first Stocker Feeder Cattle Show and Sale of 1974 will be held at Union Stock Yards, San Antonio, Thursday, May 9. This spring sale should attract numerous buyers and arouse a great deal of buying and selling interest.

The judges will be selected from South Texas cattlemen with a practical knowledge of the needs of the industry. Judging will begin at 7:30 a.m. and the auction will begin at 9 a.m. and the prize winning cattle will be sold at 11 a.m.

Herefords, Angus and Crossbred may be shown for awards in steer and heifer classes in lots of 10, 20 and 40. However, this sale is open to all classes of cattle, and cattle need not be shown for awards to enter this sale. Sales of this kind normally attract a wide variety of cattle and a broad buying demand.

The purpose of this special sale is to provide a better market quality Stocker Feeder Cattle and to provide Producers an opportunity to display and sell their cattle in uniform lots shaped up and at a time and place where the large number of animals will enable the many buyers to buy their requirements.

TABLE BUILDERS. . .from the Medina County Association for Exceptional Children include [in no special order] Advisor Hubert Hermes, Abelardo Garcia, Jeff Spears, Tommy Lopez, Roger Moreno, Panta Garcia and [not pictured] Robert Mares and Manuel Cortez. They will build two round tables and two long rectangular tables for the Auction May 5 that follows Museum Day.

PART OF THE CROWD. . .at the Parker Creek dam dedication.

ANOTHER CROWD SCENE. . .shows the interested people to journey to the Parker Creek dam for a look around.

Tractor efficiency stressed

J. D. Schmidt and John McAnelly, Vocational Agriculture instructors at Hondo High School, submit the following suggestions for making the maximum use of tractor fuel. The information was provided by Norman K. Waggoner, Tractor Maintenance Specialist at Texas A&M University.

Waggoner states that never has there been a time when a good schedule of regular maintenance was more important than now. No engine can make maximum use of fuel without an abundance of clean air and clean fuel. This calls for servicing the air filter to assure the engine's "free breathing". Give special attention to keeping the fuel clean and servicing the fuel filter.

Operators may be forced to accept a low grade fuel that may be high in sulfur content. Sulfur in diesel fuel should not exceed one-half of one per cent. A greater percentage than this will require more frequent oil changes.

Tillage practices might well be analyzed. Can the number of trips over the field be reduced without affecting yield? Can some tillage operations be combined? Maybe we should ask ourselves, "is this trip really necessary?" Being sure tillage implements are properly adjusted will relieve side draft and reduce power requirements.

Selecting the proper forward gear to match the load will greatly improve efficiency. In many cases an operator can shift up to the next higher gear and throttle back. Diesel tractors give better fuel economy when fully loaded.

Weigh the tractor to keep wheel slippage below 15%. Preferrably about 10%. It has been found that wheel slippage of between 15-20 percent increases fuel consumption 10% and tire wear 40%. Excessive weight will also waste fuel. So good judgment is required here. Using the small tractor for small jobs and big tractor for big jobs is more important than ever.

Don't "baby" the tractor, load it and work it. Remember that an engine that is idling is not idle at all. It is burning valuable fuel.

Lady Golfers hold event

Ten Hondo lady golfers played in a tournament Tuesday at Brackenridge Golf Course, San Antonio.

Only one member--Nancy Sanders--played on a winning team. Her team tied for first place.

Results of the Guys and Dolls Tournament played in Hondo Sunday are as follow:

Three teams tied for first place with identical scores of 56.

Evelyn Winkler, Rudy Lagunas, Luther Chapa and Carol Matte made up one team; Bill Kamperman, T. Thomas, Carl Braunig and Chris Chapa made up another; and the third team included Jack Gruber, Ernest Barrientes, Isabel Lopez and Lonnie Shuler.

Winner of the Ladies Longest Drive contest was Evelyn Winkler.

In the contest for the drive closest to the pin, Evelyn Winkler won the Ladies prize, while Feldon Heickman won among men players.

Highway 90 League begins Sunday

Highway 90 League action will get under way Sunday afternoon as the Hondo Eagles take on the D'Hanis Cardinals in a 3 p.m. game at D'Hanis. The game will be played at the D'Hanis High School ball field.

The game is the first of the regular Highway 90 season, although the Eagles have played a previous game against an independent team from San Antonio.

In other area action Medina Valley will clash with Castroville at the ball park on Old Highway 90.

Charlotte will play at Pearsall.

PRACTICE GAME. . .between the Yankees and Aggies of the Major League provided a taste of the summer's competition to come.

Owls start 2nd round in loop play

Hondo took over undisputed second place Tuesday night as they overpowered Devine 10-1 at Hondo as the second round of District 28-AA baseball began.

Medina Valley upped its district winning streak to 6-0 with a Tuesday night win over Carrizo Springs. Devine, who had been tied with Hondo, fell to 3-3 and third place.

Friday night the Owls downed D'Hanis 17-5 in a non-district game, also at Hondo.

This week the action is at night again, with Hondo going to Carrizo Springs Friday night for a 7:30 game with the Wildcats. Tuesday Pearsall's Mavericks will be in Hondo for a 7:30 p.m. game.

D'HANIS

Hondo put together 14 hits while holding the Cowboys to four, and took an easy 17-5 victory. Raul Dominguez led all Owls in that game as he hit two triples and a single and scored five runs.

Mike Groff had two singles and a double for the Owls, and Steve Mueller and Richard Coronado each had two hits for Hondo.

D'Hanis' four hits were by Bobby Joe Rothe, Lee Roy Reyes, Frank Sandoval and Allen Huser, with one each.

DEVINE

Five runs in the first inning proved to be enough for the Owls to win, but they doubled that total later in the game while holding Devine to one run in the sixth to win 10-1.

Bob Spears went all the way for Hondo to win, while Luna absorbed the loss for the Warhorses.

In the opening inning, Arcos and Groff walked. Then Bohmfalk doubled, and Mendoza and Coronado singled in quick succession. Another walk to Knowles, a single by Spears and a second-base error on Dominguez' grounder upped the Owl tally to five before the inning was through.

Again in the third, a pair of singles put Mendoza and Knowles on base again, and both scored. Hondo added a run in the fourth as Bohmfalk singled, then scored on a double by Augie Mendoza.

Two more runs crossed in the fifth before Devine could break the shutout.

In the sixth McAlister reached on a shortstop error, then scored as Richard Ehlinger singled. That was to be the whole Devine attack. Spears pitched out of the inning and stopped the Warhors es again in the seventh to earn the victory.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Some anglers save empty cardboard cartons that once contained milk, wash them clean (inside and out), fill them with cold drinking water, and store them in the freezer side of the home refrigerator, overnight.

Next morning, when they get ready to leave on a fishing trip they place a few of the frozen-solid cartons in the iced-down cooler to help keep the food, sodas and other canned or bottled refreshments cold. And, their catch too!

When the ice in the cartons melts, the water is used for drinking purposes, for removing the fish odor from the hands, or for tidying up the boat.

Anglers who prefer to toss their catch into an ice box, instead of putting them on a stringer, usually add a wid rubber band or two around each carton. This, after filling the carton with water and folding the tops down flat and tight, helps to keep the aroma of the fish out of the frozen or melted ice and the resulting drinking water.

Most of the time fishermen take along a couple or more of these cartons of frozen water for each person in the party.

Some anglers who want to keep their catch fresh and picturable, hence don't want their fish frozen stiff, pack a half dozen or so pint-sized frozen cartons of water in the box and use no other means of icing. Mainly, this is a matter of how warm the weather and how far one is from home.

If home base is some distance away the quart size cartons are utilized.

One of our crappie fishing friends uses a gallon size milk carton for storing his fileted fish. He drops the filets into the big container, fills the carton with water, folds the top down tight and places the gallon of goodies in his deep freeze.

Sure beats wrapping them in foil individually.

Only trouble here is—that's a lot of fish for one meal, unless you have a bunch of hungry youngsters—or lots of company to feed.

Only one member--Nancy Sanders--played on a winning team. Her team tied for first place.

Results of the Guys and Dolls Tournament played in Hondo Sunday are as follow:

Three teams tied for first place with identical scores of 56.

Evelyn Winkler, Rudy Lagunas, Luther Chapa and Carol Matte made up one team; Bill Kamperman, T. Thomas, Carl Braunig and Chris Chapa made up another; and the third team included Jack Gruber, Ernest Barrientes, Isabel Lopez and Lonnie Shuler.

Winner of the Ladies Longest Drive contest was Evelyn Winkler.

In the contest for the drive closest to the pin, Evelyn Winkler won the Ladies prize, while Feldon Heickman won among men players.

Highway 90 League begins Sunday

Highway 90 League action will get under way Sunday afternoon as the Hondo Eagles take on the D'Hanis Cardinals in a 3 p.m. game at D'Hanis. The game will be played at the D'Hanis High School ball field.

The game is the first of the regular Highway 90 season, although the Eagles have played a previous game against an independent team from San Antonio.

In other area action Medina Valley will clash with Castroville at the ball park on Old Highway 90.

Charlotte will play at Pearsall.

PRACTICE GAME. . .between the Yankees and Aggies of the Major League provided a taste of the summer's competition to come.

Owls start 2nd round in loop play

Hondo took over undisputed second place Tuesday night as they overpowered Devine 10-1 at Hondo as the second round of District 28-AA baseball began.

Medina Valley upped its district winning streak to 6-0 with a Tuesday night win over Carrizo Springs. Devine, who had been tied with Hondo, fell to 3-3 and third place.

Friday night the Owls downed D'Hanis 17-5 in a non-district game, also at Hondo.

This week the action is at night again, with Hondo going to Carrizo Springs Friday night for a 7:30 game with the Wildcats. Tuesday Pearsall's Mavericks will be in Hondo for a 7:30 p.m. game.

D'HANIS

Hondo put together 14 hits while holding the Cowboys to four, and took an easy 17-5 victory. Raul Dominguez led all Owls in that game as he hit two triples and a single and scored five runs.

Mike Groff had two singles and a double for the Owls, and Steve Mueller and Richard Coronado each had two hits for Hondo.

D'Hanis' four hits were by Bobby Joe Rothe, Lee Roy Reyes, Frank Sandoval and Allen Huser, with one each.

DEVINE

Five runs in the first inning proved to be enough for the Owls to win, but they doubled that total later in the game while holding Devine to one run in the sixth to win 10-1.

Bob Spears went all the way for Hondo to win, while Luna absorbed the loss for the Warhorses.

In the opening inning, Arcos and Groff walked. Then Bohmfalk doubled, and Mendoza and Coronado singled in quick succession. Another walk to Knowles, a single by Spears and a second-base error on Dominguez' grounder upped the Owl tally to five before the inning was through.

Again in the third, a pair of singles put Mendoza and Knowles on base again, and both scored. Hondo added a run in the fourth as Bohmfalk singled, then scored on a double by Augie Mendoza.

Two more runs crossed in the fifth before Devine could break the shutout.

In the sixth McAlister reached on a shortstop error, then scored as Richard Ehlinger singled. That was to be the whole Devine attack. Spears pitched out of the inning and stopped the Warhorses again in the seventh to earn the victory.

Kite contest reset Saturday.

The Kite Flying contest sponsored by Cub Scout Pack 219 will be held Saturday, April 27.

Originally set for April 20, the contest was postponed due to bad weather.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Some anglers save empty cardboard cartons that once contained milk, wash them clean (inside and out), fill them with cold drinking water, and store them in the freezer side of the home refrigerator, overnight.

Next morning, when they get ready to leave on a fishing trip they place a few of the frozen-solid cartons in the iced-down cooler to help keep the food, sodas and other canned or bottled refreshments cold. And, their catch too!

When the ice in the cartons melts, the water is used for drinking purposes, for removing the fish odor from the hands, or for tidying up the boat.

Anglers who prefer to toss their catch into an ice box, instead of putting them on a stringer, usually add a wid rubber band or two around each carton. This, after filling the carton with water and folding the tops down flat and tight, helps to keep the aroma of the fish out of the frozen or melted ice and the resulting drinking water.

Most of the time fishermen take along a couple or more of these cartons of frozen water for each person in the party.

Some anglers who want to keep their catch fresh and picturable, hence don't want their fish frozen stiff, pack a half dozen or so pint-sized frozen cartons of water in the box and use no other means of icing. Mainly, this is a matter of how warm the weather and how far one is from home.

If home base is some distance away the quart size cartons are utilized.

One of our crappie fishing friends uses a gallon size milk carton for storing his fileted fish. He drops the filets into the big container, fills the carton with water, folds the top down tight and places the gallon of goodies in his deep freeze.

Sure beats wrapping them in foil individually.

Only trouble here is—that's a lot of fish for one meal, unless you have a bunch of hungry youngsters—or lots of company to feed.

Golfers finish 4th at Alice

Hondo's High School golf team placed fourth in the Regional Championship last Thursday at Alice. Finishing first was defending 2-A State champion Boling with a score of 657 for the two-day tournament.

Another area team, Randolph, finished seventh with a 720 score.

Both Boling and Refugio will advance to the State tournament.

Randy Watkins of Boling took medalist honors with a two-round score of 146. Stanley Ehlinger of Devine finished second at 153, and Hondo's Mark Graff was third at 160.

Also in the top ten finishers was Eddie Jungman of Devine with a 169.

Ehlinger and Watkins qualified for the state meet. Watkins will go with his championship team, while Ehlinger will represent Devine in the meet.

ARRIVAL TIME. . .Foreign students from the Defense Language Institute, English Language Branch, meet with residents of Hondo during the town's "Hometown USA" project. Many families of the city opened their homes to the more than 40 students Sunday [March 31] to show the visiting foreign military men and women what typical American families are like. The DLIEL students from more than 12 countries ate lunch with the families, went fishing and hunting and came back to Lackland praising the American families' hospitality. Comments from Hondo families were extremely enthusiastic and they "want to do it again." This photo was taken at the City Municipal Building when the students and families were "getting together." Schreiner offers credit

KERRVILLE--An early admissions program at Schriener College this summer will enable a high school student to take two college courses for credit.

Open to students who have completed the junior year and rank in the top quarter of their class, the program would see credit granted following high school graduation.

The hours earned would be acceptable not only at Schreiner but also at many other colleges having similar early admissions programs. This includes perhaps one-fourth of the nation's colleges.

A student could earn as much as eight semester hours credit by taking two 4-hour courses during Schreiner's 6-week summer term, which begins June 3.

Additional information is available from the director of admissions at Schreiner.

ARRIVAL TIME. . .Foreign students from the Defense Language Institute, English Language Branch, meet with residents of Hondo during the town's "Hometown USA" project. Many families of the city opened their homes to the more than 40 students Sunday [March 31] to show the visiting foreign military men and women what typical American families are like. The DLIEL students from more than 12 countries ate lunch with the families, went fishing and hunting and came back to Lackland praising the American families' hospitality. Comments from Hondo families were extremely enthusiastic and they "want to do it again."

Schreiner offers credit

KERRVILLE--An early admissions program at Schriener College this summer will enable a high school student to take two college courses for credit.

Open to students who have completed the junior year and rank in the top quarter of their class, the program would see credit granted following high school graduation.

The hours earned would be acceptable not only at Schreiner but also at many other colleges having similar early admissions programs. This includes perhaps one-fourth of the nation's colleges.

A student could earn as much as eight semester hours credit by taking two 4-hour courses during Schreiner's 6-week summer term, which begins June 3.

Additional information is available from the director of admissions at Schreiner.

Historic sites to be explored

AUSTIN -- Three major archeological investigations of state historic sites are planned for 1974 by the Parks and Wildlife Department's Historic sites and Restoration Branch.

Beginning in mid-March, six or seven weeks of excavations will be conducted at the Mission Rosario Unit of Goliad State Park. Mission Rosario was originally excavated by WPA workmen in 1940 and 1941.

This month, an eight-person crew under the direction of Dr. Kathleen Gilmore of Dallas will work to seek wall lines of the old mission and other architectural features.

Rosario Mission grounds are closed to the public but exhibits and other interpretative materials pertaining to the mission are displayed at nearby Mission Espritu Santo at Goliad State Park.

Rosario was founded in 1754 as a sister church-mission complex to Espiritu Santo.

In West Texas, near Ozona, four weeks of excavations will be conducted at Fort Lancaster Historic Site in April by Parks and Wildlife Department staff archeologist Wayne Roberson and a six-member crew. Fort Lancaster is in a state of ruin and no buildings remain standing.

Lancaster was established in 1855 by the U.S. Army and abandoned at the outbreak of the Civil War. Confederate troops occupied the fort for a short while in 1862 but also left.

The park is open to the public and visitors may observe the archeological excavations in progress.

At Fort McKavett Historic Site in Menard County, four weeks of excavations are scheduled for June directed by department archeologist David Ing with a crew of five.

Many of the old fort structures are still standing, some of them are on park property and some are private residences.

The buildings on park property are open to the public, as is also a small interpretative center.

Fort McKavett was established in 1852 by the Army and abandoned in 1859.

It was re-established in 1868 and finally abandoned in 1883.

Visitors can observe the archeological excavations in progress.

During the last week of February, work was done at the Sabine Pass Battleground Historic Site in Jefferson County.

Despite extensive excavation in the area, no remains of the fort or artifacts could be found.

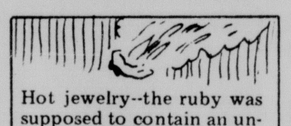

It was concluded that the old mud fort was washed into the pass. Over the past century, especially during the last 80 years of channelization, the bank where the park is located has lost 300 feet to erosion.

The spit of land where the fort stood evidently has been obliterated.

Fort Griffin at Sabine Pass, established by the Confederacy in 1863, was the scene of the "battle" of Sabine Pass in September, 1863.

The earthernwork fort armed with six guns under the command of Dick Dowling repelled an attack from two Federal gunboats. Within an hour's battle, both gunboats were severely damaged and run aground, and both surrendered.

This was the only attempt by Union forces to invade Texas via Sabine Pass.

Hot jewelry--the ruby was supposed to contain an unquenchable inner fire.

OUTDOORS 'n' THINGS

by L. D. Nuckles

In the past I've said a great deal about unwanted pets that people have dumped along the road and left to shift for themselves. I pointed out that they either became killers, living off the land, or they starved to death.

But, how about those dogs that run around over the neighborhood in every suburban area in Texas? There are certainly enough where I live. People say, "Oh, I wouldn't have a dog if I had to fence him in."

Well, there are several basic dangers that they expose their dogs to by letting him run loose and a few that they, themselves, are exposed to.

First, your dog may wander into a neighbor's yard and bite the neighbor's child. I know, your dog won't bite, but the child may not know anything about pets and may hurt the dog, pull his tail or his ears. ANY dog is liable to snap in self-defense.

The neighbor may decide to sue you or he may take more direct action and just knock you loose from your ears. He may even shoot the dog. I, personally, wouldn't blame him very much if he did all three.

If allowed to run around and come and go as he pleases, your dog is apt to become headstrong and stubborn and forget any training you may have given him. He'll find friends outside the family and, consequently, the family will mean less to him. Come to think of it though, a man who just lets his dog roam free probably never bothered to train him and no real rapport ever developed between them.

The biggest danger a free-roaming is subjected to is probably the automobile -- sooner or later he'll be hit by a car. More than likely he will be killed, but if he is lucky enough to survive he'll know enough to avoid roads in the future. This is an awfully hard way to teach an animal anything, it seems to me.

Then, of course, if you allow your dog to run free, you're inviting someone to steal him. There is a great demand for dogs and police tell us that there are professional dognappers who make a living, and a good one, just stealing dogs. There is, of course, a demand for good blooded dogs, but research laboratories and some schools pay a fair price for just about any dog. About the only interest they usually have in the animal is his size. They want animals of a particular size and kind, color, or breed makes no difference to them.

Your dog is liable to get sick at any given time if allowed to run loose. You have no control over what he eats and the neighbors garbage can may not contain just exactly what the vet would prescribe for a healthy canine. He'll be exposed to every disease and parasite carried by the foot-loose mutts he associates with from fleas to rabies.

Then, too, there is the wildlife he'll encounter in his jaunts out in the brush. Oh yes! He'll join other strays around the neighborhood to form a hunting pack and they'll spend a good bit of time out hunting. Foxes, coyotes, skunks, racoons, squirrels and just about every other wild animal can carry rabies and will infect your dog if he encounters them. Of course, they may carry many other diseases but rabies is the most dreaded.

Anyone who gives you that routine of, "I wouldn't have a dog if I had to keep the poor thing penned up," is, whether he knows it or not, just refusing to accept the responsibility of pet ownership. If everyone who owns a dog that they turn out to become a neighborhood nuisance knew what the neighbors thought about him and his blasted dog, I suspect he might get rid of the dog or find some way to restrain him. He may be one of those people, though, who don't care what anybody thinks of him. Well, at least, now he knows what I think of him.

The split bamboo rod, once considered an absolute must in fine fishing tackle, is rarely seen these days, and then only in the hands of confirmed sentimentalists who have more money than they know what to do with.

In the first place the enamel-rich tonkin can that bamboo rods are made from grows behind the bamboo curtain and is almost impossible for Americans to obtain. About the time of World War II some far-sighted rodmakers saw the handwriting on the wall and laid in a large reserve stock, some of which is still available. The coming of the glass rods lessened the demand for split bamboo or this supply would have been used up long ago.

Because there was no demand for their services there are very few of the fine craftsmen left that were so necessary to the production of bamboo rods. There are still a few left and some of the rods are still made but the cost of owning such a rod is prohibitive for most of us. Besides----who wants a bamboo rod anyway? Glass rods are lighter, stronger and can be built with exactly the right action in the right places. They can stand a great deal of abuse, and don't need to be hung exactly right to keep them from warping.

Glass rods, of course, are not all works of art. They can be bought in just about any size, shape, color, and quality desired and, like just about anything else, you get what you pay for. A glass rod starts out as a bolt of cloth woven from glass fibers and right here in the beginning the quality control starts. Specifications for the cloth can vary in the size of the threads, the number of threads per square inch running in each direction, and the number of imperfections allowed. The first step in becoming a rod starts when this cloth is dipped in a plastic resin and the type resin used, the extent of temperature controls, and the methods used help determine the quality of the finished product. When ready for use, after the resin is partially cured, the cloth is cut to shape using a stainless steel template. The shape of the template determines the action of the rod. These pieces of cloth are again soaked in resin, wrapped tightly around steel rods, run through rollers under tremendous pressure, wrapped tightly in cellophane, then placed in ovens to cure. Here the temperature is gradually raised to the correct level and allowed to remain for a specified time, then gradually reduced. After cooling the steel rod is removed and the cellophane is slit and blown from the blanks by a high pressure jet of air.

The blanks now go to the wrapping room for finishing. Ferrules are put on with epoxy glue and a fine finish is applied by dipping the blank in liquid plastic and slowly withdrawing it so that no runs or imperfections develop in the finished product. Guides are wrapped on by hand using nylon thread, handles are fitted and the rod is then ready for its final inspections.

It all sounds complicated, and it is, but it is nothing compared to the slow, tedious, exacting hand work that is required to make a fine split bamboo rod.

Historic sites to be explored

AUSTIN -- Three major archeological investigations of state historic sites are planned for 1974 by the Parks and Wildlife Department's Historic sites and Restoration Branch.

Beginning in mid-March, six or seven weeks of excavations will be conducted at the Mission Rosario Unit of Goliad State Park. Mission Rosario was originally excavated by WPA workmen in 1940 and 1941.

This month, an eight-person crew under the direction of Dr. Kathleen Gilmore of Dallas will work to seek wall lines of the old mission and other architectural features.

Rosario Mission grounds are closed to the public but exhibits and other interpretative materials pertaining to the mission are displayed at nearby Mission Espritu Santo at Goliad State Park.

Rosario was founded in 1754 as a sister church-mission complex to Espiritu Santo.

In West Texas, near Ozona, four weeks of excavations will be conducted at Fort Lancaster Historic Site in April by Parks and Wildlife Department staff archeologist Wayne Roberson and a six-member crew. Fort Lancaster is in a state of ruin and no buildings remain standing.

Lancaster was established in 1855 by the U.S. Army and abandoned at the outbreak of the Civil War. Confederate troops occupied the fort for a short while in 1862 but also left.

The park is open to the public and visitors may observe the archeological excavations in progress.

At Fort McKavett Historic Site in Menard County, four weeks of excavations are scheduled for June directed by department archeologist David Ing with a crew of five.

Many of the old fort structures are still standing, some of them are on park property and some are private residences.

The buildings on park property are open to the public, as is also a small interpretative center.

Fort McKavett was established in 1852 by the Army and abandoned in 1859.

It was re-established in 1868 and finally abandoned in 1883.

Visitors can observe the archeological excavations in progress.

During the last week of February, work was done at the Sabine Pass Battleground Historic Site in Jefferson County.

Despite extensive excavation in the area, no remains of the fort or artifacts could be found.

It was concluded that the old mud fort was washed into the pass. Over the past century, especially during the last 80 years of channelization, the bank where the park is located has lost 300 feet to erosion.

The spit of land where the fort stood evidently has been obliterated.

Fort Griffin at Sabine Pass, established by the Confederacy in 1863, was the scene of the "battle" of Sabine Pass in September, 1863.

The earthernwork fort armed with six guns under the command of Dick Dowling repelled an attack from two Federal gunboats. Within an hour's battle, both gunboats were severely damaged and run aground, and both surrendered.

This was the only attempt by Union forces to invade Texas via Sabine Pass.

Hot jewelry--the ruby was supposed to contain an unquenchable inner fire.

OUTDOORS 'n' THINGS

by L. D. Nuckles

In the past I've said a great deal about unwanted pets that people have dumped along the road and left to shift for themselves. I pointed out that they either became killers, living off the land, or they starved to death.

But, how about those dogs that run around over the neighborhood in every suburban area in Texas? There are certainly enough where I live. People say, "Oh, I wouldn't have a dog if I had to fence him in."

Well, there are several basic dangers that they expose their dogs to by letting him run loose and a few that they, themselves, are exposed to.

First, your dog may wander into a neighbor's yard and bite the neighbor's child. I know, your dog won't bite, but the child may not know anything about pets and may hurt the dog, pull his tail or his ears. ANY dog is liable to snap in self-defense.

The neighbor may decide to sue you or he may take more direct action and just knock you loose from your ears. He may even shoot the dog. I, personally, wouldn't blame him very much if he did all three.

If allowed to run around and come and go as he pleases, your dog is apt to become headstrong and stubborn and forget any training you may have given him. He'll find friends outside the family and, consequently, the family will mean less to him. Come to think of it though, a man who just lets his dog roam free probably never bothered to train him and no real rapport ever developed between them.

The biggest danger a free-roaming is subjected to is probably the automobile -- sooner or later he'll be hit by a car. More than likely he will be killed, but if he is lucky enough to survive he'll know enough to avoid roads in the future. This is an awfully hard way to teach an animal anything, it seems to me.

Then, of course, if you allow your dog to run free, you're inviting someone to steal him. There is a great demand for dogs and police tell us that there are professional dognappers who make a living, and a good one, just stealing dogs. There is, of course, a demand for good blooded dogs, but research laboratories and some schools pay a fair price for just about any dog. About the only interest they usually have in the animal is his size. They want animals of a particular size and kind, color, or breed makes no difference to them.

Your dog is liable to get sick at any given time if allowed to run loose. You have no control over what he eats and the neighbors garbage can may not contain just exactly what the vet would prescribe for a healthy canine. He'll be exposed to every disease and parasite carried by the foot-loose mutts he associates with from fleas to rabies.

Then, too, there is the wildlife he'll encounter in his jaunts out in the brush. Oh yes! He'll join other strays around the neighborhood to form a hunting pack and they'll spend a good bit of time out hunting. Foxes, coyotes, skunks, racoons, squirrels and just about every other wild animal can carry rabies and will infect your dog if he encounters them. Of course, they may carry many other diseases but rabies is the most dreaded.

Anyone who gives you that routine of, "I wouldn't have a dog if I had to keep the poor thing penned up," is, whether he knows it or not, just refusing to accept the responsibility of pet ownership. If everyone who owns a dog that they turn out to become a neighborhood nuisance knew what the neighbors thought about him and his blasted dog, I suspect he might get rid of the dog or find some way to restrain him. He may be one of those people, though, who don't care what anybody thinks of him. Well, at least, now he knows what I think of him.
